

250 ADHD Awareness Month AI Image Prompts

OCTOBER • AWARENESS • ACCEPTANCE • EDUCATION • SUPPORT

This pack contains 250 text-ready prompts covering ADHD awareness, neurodiversity-inspired artwork, school and teacher designs, family support, adult work life, funny relatable sayings, hobbies, cute characters, florals, retro/Y2K, alternative styles, and more.

TEXT RULE: All requested readable design wording is English only. Prompts explicitly request no pseudo-text, no extra letters, and no watermark.

IMPORTANT: These are creative design prompts, not medical advice. The wording is written to be supportive and avoids claiming that every person with ADHD has the same experience.

English Text Bank

ADHD AWARENESS MONTH • OCTOBER IS ADHD AWARENESS MONTH • ADHD AWARENESS • CELEBRATE ADHD AWARENESS • DIFFERENTLY WIRED • SAME BRAIN • DIFFERENT ROUTE • MY BRAIN HAS TOO MANY TABS OPEN • BUSY BRAIN CLUB • CREATIVELY DISTRACTED • CHAOTIC BUT CAPABLE • PROGRESS NOT PERFECTION • MORE IDEAS THAN TIME • ADHD BRAINS THINK DIFFERENTLY • AWARENESS • ACCEPTANCE • SUPPORT • DIFFERENT MINDS • BRIGHTER WORLD • NEURODIVERSITY MATTERS • ATTENTION LOOKS DIFFERENT • EMBRACE DIFFERENT • SUPPORT ADHD AWARENESS • UNDERSTANDING CREATES INCLUSION

AWARENESS TEXT VARIATIONS

001. Create a bold retro groovy apparel graphic for ADHD Awareness Month featuring oversized awareness lettering surrounded by colorful hearts, stars, lightning bolts, flowers, and checkered accents. Integrate the exact headline "ADHD AWARENESS MONTH" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	002. Create a bright hand-drawn doodle illustration for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a rainbow-colored brain icon framed by butterflies, daisies, hearts, and energetic doodle marks. Integrate the exact headline "OCTOBER IS ADHD AWARENESS MONTH" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.
003. Create a clean modern vector badge for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a bold awareness ribbon-style banner with colorful geometric shapes, tiny stars, and playful stationery motifs. Integrate the exact headline "ADHD AWARENESS" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	004. Create a soft watercolor-and-ink illustration for ADHD Awareness Month featuring oversized awareness lettering surrounded by colorful hearts, stars, lightning bolts, flowers, and checkered accents. Integrate the exact headline "CELEBRATE ADHD AWARENESS" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.
005. Create a layered paper-cut composition for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a rainbow-colored brain icon framed by butterflies, daisies, hearts, and energetic doodle marks. Integrate the exact headline "DIFFERENTLY WIRED" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	006. Create a embroidered patch aesthetic for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a bold awareness ribbon-style banner with colorful geometric shapes, tiny stars, and playful stationery motifs. Integrate the exact headline "SAME BRAIN • DIFFERENT ROUTE" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.

BRAIN & NEURODIVERSITY INSPIRED

007. Create a bright hand-drawn doodle illustration for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a colorful illustrated brain divided into bright organic sections with flowers and tiny stars. Integrate the exact headline "ADHD AWARENESS" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	008. Create a clean modern vector badge for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a brain-and-butterfly composition representing different paths of thought with looping dotted trails. Integrate the exact headline "CELEBRATE ADHD AWARENESS" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.
009. Create a soft watercolor-and-ink illustration for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a maze-like brain illustration with multiple colorful routes leading toward the same goal. Integrate the exact headline "DIFFERENTLY WIRED" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	010. Create a layered paper-cut composition for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a brain made from puzzle-free abstract shapes, florals, lightning bolts, hearts, and creative icons. Integrate the exact headline "SAME BRAIN • DIFFERENT ROUTE" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.
011. Create a embroidered patch aesthetic for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a pair of stylized brain hemispheres connected by rainbow lines, stars, and branching idea paths. Integrate the exact headline "MY BRAIN HAS TOO MANY TABS OPEN" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	012. Create a 3D puffy lettering and glossy icon design for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a glowing brain surrounded by books, art tools, music notes, plants, and idea sparks. Integrate the exact headline "BUSY BRAIN CLUB" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.
013. Create a Y2K sticker-collage graphic for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a botanical brain formed from leaves, flowers, vines, and colorful neural-style lines. Integrate the exact headline "CREATIVELY DISTRACTED" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	014. Create a vintage collegiate shirt design for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a brain-shaped cloud of sticky notes, tabs, clocks, stars, and doodled ideas. Integrate the exact headline "CHAOTIC BUT CAPABLE" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.

BRAIN & NEURODIVERSITY INSPIRED (CONTINUED)

015. Create a tattoo-flash inspired composition for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a colorful illustrated brain divided into bright organic sections with flowers and tiny stars. Integrate the exact headline "PROGRESS NOT PERFECTION" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	016. Create a western tooled-leather inspired badge for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a brain-and-butterfly composition representing different paths of thought with looping dotted trails. Integrate the exact headline "MORE IDEAS THAN TIME" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.
017. Create a kawaii character illustration for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a maze-like brain illustration with multiple colorful routes leading toward the same goal. Integrate the exact headline "ADHD BRAINS THINK DIFFERENTLY" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	018. Create a maximalist floral poster for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a brain made from puzzle-free abstract shapes, florals, lightning bolts, hearts, and creative icons. Integrate the exact headline "AWARENESS • ACCEPTANCE • SUPPORT" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.
019. Create a minimalist typography design for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a pair of stylized brain hemispheres connected by rainbow lines, stars, and branching idea paths. Integrate the exact headline "DIFFERENT MINDS • BRIGHTER WORLD" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	020. Create a scrapbook collage aesthetic for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a glowing brain surrounded by books, art tools, music notes, plants, and idea sparks. Integrate the exact headline "NEURODIVERSITY MATTERS" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.
021. Create a linocut printmaking graphic for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a botanical brain formed from leaves, flowers, vines, and colorful neural-style lines. Integrate the exact headline "ATTENTION LOOKS DIFFERENT" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	022. Create a pop-art comic composition for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a brain-shaped cloud of sticky notes, tabs, clocks, stars, and doodled ideas. Integrate the exact headline "EMBRACE DIFFERENT" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.

BRAIN & NEURODIVERSITY INSPIRED (CONTINUED)

023. Create a soft gouache poster for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a colorful illustrated brain divided into bright organic sections with flowers and tiny stars. Integrate the exact headline "SUPPORT ADHD AWARENESS" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	024. Create a bold retro groovy apparel graphic for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a brain-and-butterfly composition representing different paths of thought with looping dotted trails. Integrate the exact headline "UNDERSTANDING CREATES INCLUSION" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.
025. Create a bright hand-drawn doodle illustration for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a maze-like brain illustration with multiple colorful routes leading toward the same goal. Integrate the exact headline "ADHD AWARENESS MONTH" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	026. Create a clean modern vector badge for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a brain made from puzzle-free abstract shapes, florals, lightning bolts, hearts, and creative icons. Integrate the exact headline "OCTOBER IS ADHD AWARENESS MONTH" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.
027. Create a soft watercolor-and-ink illustration for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a pair of stylized brain hemispheres connected by rainbow lines, stars, and branching idea paths. Integrate the exact headline "ADHD AWARENESS" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	028. Create a layered paper-cut composition for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a glowing brain surrounded by books, art tools, music notes, plants, and idea sparks. Integrate the exact headline "CELEBRATE ADHD AWARENESS" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.
029. Create a embroidered patch aesthetic for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a botanical brain formed from leaves, flowers, vines, and colorful neural-style lines. Integrate the exact headline "DIFFERENTLY WIRED" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	030. Create a 3D puffy lettering and glossy icon design for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a brain-shaped cloud of sticky notes, tabs, clocks, stars, and doodled ideas. Integrate the exact headline "SAME BRAIN • DIFFERENT ROUTE" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.

BRAIN & NEURODIVERSITY INSPIRED (CONTINUED)

031. Create a Y2K sticker-collage graphic for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a colorful illustrated brain divided into bright organic sections with flowers and tiny stars. Integrate the exact headline "MY BRAIN HAS TOO MANY TABS OPEN" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.
--	--

MENTAL HEALTH & POSITIVITY

032. Create a soft watercolor-and-ink illustration for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a radiant rainbow over a heart and brain with flowers, stars, and gentle supportive symbols. Integrate the exact headline "DIFFERENTLY WIRED" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	033. Create a layered paper-cut composition for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a progress path made from stepping stones, flowers, hearts, and small celebratory stars. Integrate the exact headline "SAME BRAIN • DIFFERENT ROUTE" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.
034. Create a embroidered patch aesthetic for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a warm self-kindness emblem with heart, brain, flowers, sunrise rays, and soft supportive imagery. Integrate the exact headline "MY BRAIN HAS TOO MANY TABS OPEN" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	035. Create a 3D puffy lettering and glossy icon design for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a growing plant emerging from an open notebook with stars, hearts, and colorful idea sparks. Integrate the exact headline "BUSY BRAIN CLUB" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.
036. Create a Y2K sticker-collage graphic for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a calm cloud-and-rainbow scene with a brain icon, flowers, and reassuring decorative accents. Integrate the exact headline "CREATIVELY DISTRACTED" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	037. Create a vintage collegiate shirt design for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a bright sunburst behind a heart-and-brain symbol with butterflies and botanical framing. Integrate the exact headline "CHAOTIC BUT CAPABLE" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.
038. Create a tattoo-flash inspired composition for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a radiant rainbow over a heart and brain with flowers, stars, and gentle supportive symbols. Integrate the exact headline "PROGRESS NOT PERFECTION" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	039. Create a western tooled-leather inspired badge for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a progress path made from stepping stones, flowers, hearts, and small celebratory stars. Integrate the exact headline "MORE IDEAS THAN TIME" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.

MENTAL HEALTH & POSITIVITY (CONTINUED)

040. Create a kawaii character illustration for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a warm self-kindness emblem with heart, brain, flowers, sunrise rays, and soft supportive imagery. Integrate the exact headline "ADHD BRAINS THINK DIFFERENTLY" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	041. Create a maximalist floral poster for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a growing plant emerging from an open notebook with stars, hearts, and colorful idea sparks. Integrate the exact headline "AWARENESS • ACCEPTANCE • SUPPORT" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.
042. Create a minimalist typography design for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a calm cloud-and-rainbow scene with a brain icon, flowers, and reassuring decorative accents. Integrate the exact headline "DIFFERENT MINDS • BRIGHTER WORLD" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	043. Create a scrapbook collage aesthetic for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a bright sunburst behind a heart-and-brain symbol with butterflies and botanical framing. Integrate the exact headline "NEURODIVERSITY MATTERS" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.
044. Create a linocut printmaking graphic for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a radiant rainbow over a heart and brain with flowers, stars, and gentle supportive symbols. Integrate the exact headline "ATTENTION LOOKS DIFFERENT" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	045. Create a pop-art comic composition for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a progress path made from stepping stones, flowers, hearts, and small celebratory stars. Integrate the exact headline "EMBRACE DIFFERENT" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.
046. Create a soft gouache poster for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a warm self-kindness emblem with heart, brain, flowers, sunrise rays, and soft supportive imagery. Integrate the exact headline "SUPPORT ADHD AWARENESS" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	047. Create a bold retro groovy apparel graphic for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a growing plant emerging from an open notebook with stars, hearts, and colorful idea sparks. Integrate the exact headline "UNDERSTANDING CREATES INCLUSION" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.

MENTAL HEALTH & POSITIVITY (CONTINUED)

048. Create a bright hand-drawn doodle illustration for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a calm cloud-and-rainbow scene with a brain icon, flowers, and reassuring decorative accents. Integrate the exact headline "ADHD AWARENESS MONTH" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	049. Create a clean modern vector badge for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a bright sunburst behind a heart-and-brain symbol with butterflies and botanical framing. Integrate the exact headline "OCTOBER IS ADHD AWARENESS MONTH" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.
050. Create a soft watercolor-and-ink illustration for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a radiant rainbow over a heart and brain with flowers, stars, and gentle supportive symbols. Integrate the exact headline "ADHD AWARENESS" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	051. Create a layered paper-cut composition for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a progress path made from stepping stones, flowers, hearts, and small celebratory stars. Integrate the exact headline "CELEBRATE ADHD AWARENESS" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.

SCHOOL, STUDENT & LEARNING

052. Create a embroidered patch aesthetic for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a stack of colorful books, pencils, sticky notes, backpack, stars, and a rainbow brain. Integrate the exact headline "SAME BRAIN • DIFFERENT ROUTE" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	053. Create a 3D puffy lettering and glossy icon design for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a student desk still life with notebook, pens, tabs, timer, water bottle, and playful doodles. Integrate the exact headline "MY BRAIN HAS TOO MANY TABS OPEN" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.
054. Create a Y2K sticker-collage graphic for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a school planner bursting with colorful tabs, checkboxes, stars, flowers, and idea bubbles. Integrate the exact headline "BUSY BRAIN CLUB" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	055. Create a vintage collegiate shirt design for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a backpack surrounded by books, headphones, pencils, lightning bolts, and cheerful icons. Integrate the exact headline "CREATIVELY DISTRACTED" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.
056. Create a tattoo-flash inspired composition for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a classroom chalkboard-style badge with books, apple, brain icon, stars, and colorful school supplies. Integrate the exact headline "CHAOTIC BUT CAPABLE" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	057. Create a western tooled-leather inspired badge for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a notebook page filled with organized colorful sections, arrows, stars, tabs, and learning icons. Integrate the exact headline "PROGRESS NOT PERFECTION" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.
058. Create a kawaii character illustration for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a stack of colorful books, pencils, sticky notes, backpack, stars, and a rainbow brain. Integrate the exact headline "MORE IDEAS THAN TIME" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	059. Create a maximalist floral poster for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a student desk still life with notebook, pens, tabs, timer, water bottle, and playful doodles. Integrate the exact headline "ADHD BRAINS THINK DIFFERENTLY" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.

SCHOOL, STUDENT & LEARNING (CONTINUED)

060. Create a minimalist typography design for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a school planner bursting with colorful tabs, checkboxes, stars, flowers, and idea bubbles. Integrate the exact headline "AWARENESS • ACCEPTANCE • SUPPORT" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	061. Create a scrapbook collage aesthetic for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a backpack surrounded by books, headphones, pencils, lightning bolts, and cheerful icons. Integrate the exact headline "DIFFERENT MINDS • BRIGHTER WORLD" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.
062. Create a linocut printmaking graphic for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a classroom chalkboard-style badge with books, apple, brain icon, stars, and colorful school supplies. Integrate the exact headline "NEURODIVERSITY MATTERS" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	063. Create a pop-art comic composition for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a notebook page filled with organized colorful sections, arrows, stars, tabs, and learning icons. Integrate the exact headline "ATTENTION LOOKS DIFFERENT" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.
064. Create a soft gouache poster for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a stack of colorful books, pencils, sticky notes, backpack, stars, and a rainbow brain. Integrate the exact headline "EMBRACE DIFFERENT" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	065. Create a bold retro groovy apparel graphic for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a student desk still life with notebook, pens, tabs, timer, water bottle, and playful doodles. Integrate the exact headline "SUPPORT ADHD AWARENESS" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.
066. Create a bright hand-drawn doodle illustration for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a school planner bursting with colorful tabs, checkboxes, stars, flowers, and idea bubbles. Integrate the exact headline "UNDERSTANDING CREATES INCLUSION" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	067. Create a clean modern vector badge for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a backpack surrounded by books, headphones, pencils, lightning bolts, and cheerful icons. Integrate the exact headline "ADHD AWARENESS MONTH" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.

SCHOOL, STUDENT & LEARNING (CONTINUED)

068. Create a soft watercolor-and-ink illustration for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a classroom chalkboard-style badge with books, apple, brain icon, stars, and colorful school supplies. Integrate the exact headline "OCTOBER IS ADHD AWARENESS MONTH" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.
---	--

TEACHER INSPIRED

069. Create a Y2K sticker-collage graphic for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a teacher desk with pencils, books, coffee tumbler, sticky notes, flowers, and a rainbow brain. Integrate the exact headline "MY BRAIN HAS TOO MANY TABS OPEN" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.

071. Create a tattoo-flash inspired composition for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a classroom rainbow over stacked books with colorful doodles, butterflies, and brain imagery. Integrate the exact headline "CREATIVELY DISTRACTED" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.

073. Create a kawaii character illustration for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a school supply wreath made from pencils, crayons, books, sticky notes, flowers, and tiny hearts. Integrate the exact headline "PROGRESS NOT PERFECTION" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.

075. Create a minimalist typography design for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a teacher desk with pencils, books, coffee tumbler, sticky notes, flowers, and a rainbow brain. Integrate the exact headline "ADHD BRAINS THINK DIFFERENTLY" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.

070. Create a vintage collegiate shirt design for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a pencil bundle tied with a ribbon and surrounded by stars, hearts, books, and awareness icons. Integrate the exact headline "BUSY BRAIN CLUB" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.

072. Create a western tooled-leather inspired badge for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a teacher tote-style composition with pens, planner, apple, flowers, stars, and supportive awareness lettering. Integrate the exact headline "CHAOTIC BUT CAPABLE" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.

074. Create a maximalist floral poster for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a bulletin-board inspired layout with colorful notes, stars, books, and a central awareness headline. Integrate the exact headline "MORE IDEAS THAN TIME" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.

076. Create a scrapbook collage aesthetic for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a pencil bundle tied with a ribbon and surrounded by stars, hearts, books, and awareness icons. Integrate the exact headline "AWARENESS • ACCEPTANCE • SUPPORT" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.

TEACHER INSPIRED (CONTINUED)

077. Create a linocut printmaking graphic for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a classroom rainbow over stacked books with colorful doodles, butterflies, and brain imagery. Integrate the exact headline "DIFFERENT MINDS • BRIGHTER WORLD" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.

079. Create a soft gouache poster for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a school supply wreath made from pencils, crayons, books, sticky notes, flowers, and tiny hearts. Integrate the exact headline "ATTENTION LOOKS DIFFERENT" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.

081. Create a bright hand-drawn doodle illustration for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a teacher desk with pencils, books, coffee tumbler, sticky notes, flowers, and a rainbow brain. Integrate the exact headline "SUPPORT ADHD AWARENESS" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.

083. Create a soft watercolor-and-ink illustration for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a classroom rainbow over stacked books with colorful doodles, butterflies, and brain imagery. Integrate the exact headline "ADHD AWARENESS MONTH" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.

078. Create a pop-art comic composition for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a teacher tote-style composition with pens, planner, apple, flowers, stars, and supportive awareness lettering. Integrate the exact headline "NEURODIVERSITY MATTERS" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.

080. Create a bold retro groovy apparel graphic for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a bulletin-board inspired layout with colorful notes, stars, books, and a central awareness headline. Integrate the exact headline "EMBRACE DIFFERENT" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.

082. Create a clean modern vector badge for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a pencil bundle tied with a ribbon and surrounded by stars, hearts, books, and awareness icons. Integrate the exact headline "UNDERSTANDING CREATES INCLUSION" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.

084. Create a layered paper-cut composition for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a teacher tote-style composition with pens, planner, apple, flowers, stars, and supportive awareness lettering. Integrate the exact headline "OCTOBER IS ADHD AWARENESS MONTH" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.

TEACHER INSPIRED (CONTINUED)

085. Create a embroidered patch aesthetic for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a school supply wreath made from pencils, crayons, books, sticky notes, flowers, and tiny hearts. Integrate the exact headline "ADHD AWARENESS" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	086. Create a 3D puffy lettering and glossy icon design for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a bulletin-board inspired layout with colorful notes, stars, books, and a central awareness headline. Integrate the exact headline "CELEBRATE ADHD AWARENESS" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.
087. Create a Y2K sticker-collage graphic for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a teacher desk with pencils, books, coffee tumbler, sticky notes, flowers, and a rainbow brain. Integrate the exact headline "DIFFERENTLY WIRED" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.

PARENT, MOM & FAMILY

088. Create a tattoo-flash inspired composition for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a family-support emblem with linked hearts, a colorful brain, flowers, and warm rainbow accents. Integrate the exact headline "BUSY BRAIN CLUB" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	089. Create a western tooled-leather inspired badge for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a parent-and-child symbolic composition using two connected hearts, stars, butterflies, and a brain icon. Integrate the exact headline "CREATIVELY DISTRACTED" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.
090. Create a kawaii character illustration for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a home-and-heart badge surrounded by flowers, sticky notes, stars, and colorful idea sparks. Integrate the exact headline "CHAOTIC BUT CAPABLE" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	091. Create a maximalist floral poster for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a supportive family circle represented by interlocking hearts, hands, flowers, and a rainbow brain. Integrate the exact headline "PROGRESS NOT PERFECTION" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.
092. Create a minimalist typography design for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a cozy home still life with planner, coffee, family calendar, flowers, and colorful awareness doodles. Integrate the exact headline "MORE IDEAS THAN TIME" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	093. Create a scrapbook collage aesthetic for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a heart-shaped floral wreath containing a small colorful brain and supportive family symbols. Integrate the exact headline "ADHD BRAINS THINK DIFFERENTLY" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.
094. Create a linocut printmaking graphic for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a family-support emblem with linked hearts, a colorful brain, flowers, and warm rainbow accents. Integrate the exact headline "AWARENESS • ACCEPTANCE • SUPPORT" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	095. Create a pop-art comic composition for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a parent-and-child symbolic composition using two connected hearts, stars, butterflies, and a brain icon. Integrate the exact headline "DIFFERENT MINDS • BRIGHTER WORLD" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.

PARENT, MOM & FAMILY (CONTINUED)

096. Create a soft gouache poster for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a home-and-heart badge surrounded by flowers, sticky notes, stars, and colorful idea sparks. Integrate the exact headline "NEURODIVERSITY MATTERS" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	097. Create a bold retro groovy apparel graphic for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a supportive family circle represented by interlocking hearts, hands, flowers, and a rainbow brain. Integrate the exact headline "ATTENTION LOOKS DIFFERENT" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.
098. Create a bright hand-drawn doodle illustration for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a cozy home still life with planner, coffee, family calendar, flowers, and colorful awareness doodles. Integrate the exact headline "EMBRACE DIFFERENT" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	099. Create a clean modern vector badge for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a heart-shaped floral wreath containing a small colorful brain and supportive family symbols. Integrate the exact headline "SUPPORT ADHD AWARENESS" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.
100. Create a soft watercolor-and-ink illustration for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a family-support emblem with linked hearts, a colorful brain, flowers, and warm rainbow accents. Integrate the exact headline "UNDERSTANDING CREATES INCLUSION" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	101. Create a layered paper-cut composition for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a parent-and-child symbolic composition using two connected hearts, stars, butterflies, and a brain icon. Integrate the exact headline "ADHD AWARENESS MONTH" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.
102. Create a embroidered patch aesthetic for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a home-and-heart badge surrounded by flowers, sticky notes, stars, and colorful idea sparks. Integrate the exact headline "OCTOBER IS ADHD AWARENESS MONTH" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	103. Create a 3D puffy lettering and glossy icon design for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a supportive family circle represented by interlocking hearts, hands, flowers, and a rainbow brain. Integrate the exact headline "ADHD AWARENESS" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.

PARENT, MOM & FAMILY (CONTINUED)

104. Create a Y2K sticker-collage graphic for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a cozy home still life with planner, coffee, family calendar, flowers, and colorful awareness doodles. Integrate the exact headline "CELEBRATE ADHD AWARENESS" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	105. Create a vintage collegiate shirt design for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a heart-shaped floral wreath containing a small colorful brain and supportive family symbols. Integrate the exact headline "DIFFERENTLY WIRED" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.
106. Create a tattoo-flash inspired composition for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a family-support emblem with linked hearts, a colorful brain, flowers, and warm rainbow accents. Integrate the exact headline "SAME BRAIN • DIFFERENT ROUTE" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	107. Create a western tooled-leather inspired badge for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a parent-and-child symbolic composition using two connected hearts, stars, butterflies, and a brain icon. Integrate the exact headline "MY BRAIN HAS TOO MANY TABS OPEN" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.

ADULT ADHD & WORK LIFE

108. Create a kawaii character illustration for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a laptop with many colorful browser tabs, sticky notes, coffee, headphones, and idea sparks. Integrate the exact headline "CREATIVELY DISTRACTED" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.

110. Create a minimalist typography design for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a work-from-home desk with laptop, plant, headphones, notebook, stars, and swirling thought lines. Integrate the exact headline "PROGRESS NOT PERFECTION" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.

112. Create a linocut printmaking graphic for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a creative office badge with laptop, lightbulb, sticky notes, pens, headphones, and brain icon. Integrate the exact headline "ADHD BRAINS THINK DIFFERENTLY" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.

114. Create a soft gouache poster for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a laptop with many colorful browser tabs, sticky notes, coffee, headphones, and idea sparks. Integrate the exact headline "DIFFERENT MINDS • BRIGHTER WORLD" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.

109. Create a maximalist floral poster for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a busy desktop with planner, timer, pens, coffee, phone, sticky notes, and colorful checkboxes. Integrate the exact headline "CHAOTIC BUT CAPABLE" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.

111. Create a scrapbook collage aesthetic for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a calendar-and-clock composition with colorful tabs, arrows, coffee, and energetic doodle accents. Integrate the exact headline "MORE IDEAS THAN TIME" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.

113. Create a pop-art comic composition for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a multitasking-inspired collage of tabs, lists, reminders, clocks, coffee, and bright idea symbols. Integrate the exact headline "AWARENESS • ACCEPTANCE • SUPPORT" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.

115. Create a bold retro groovy apparel graphic for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a busy desktop with planner, timer, pens, coffee, phone, sticky notes, and colorful checkboxes. Integrate the exact headline "NEURODIVERSITY MATTERS" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.

ADULT ADHD & WORK LIFE (CONTINUED)

116. Create a bright hand-drawn doodle illustration for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a work-from-home desk with laptop, plant, headphones, notebook, stars, and swirling thought lines. Integrate the exact headline "ATTENTION LOOKS DIFFERENT" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	117. Create a clean modern vector badge for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a calendar-and-clock composition with colorful tabs, arrows, coffee, and energetic doodle accents. Integrate the exact headline "EMBRACE DIFFERENT" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.
118. Create a soft watercolor-and-ink illustration for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a creative office badge with laptop, lightbulb, sticky notes, pens, headphones, and brain icon. Integrate the exact headline "SUPPORT ADHD AWARENESS" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	119. Create a layered paper-cut composition for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a multitasking-inspired collage of tabs, lists, reminders, clocks, coffee, and bright idea symbols. Integrate the exact headline "UNDERSTANDING CREATES INCLUSION" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.
120. Create a embroidered patch aesthetic for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a laptop with many colorful browser tabs, sticky notes, coffee, headphones, and idea sparks. Integrate the exact headline "ADHD AWARENESS MONTH" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	121. Create a 3D puffy lettering and glossy icon design for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a busy desktop with planner, timer, pens, coffee, phone, sticky notes, and colorful checkboxes. Integrate the exact headline "OCTOBER IS ADHD AWARENESS MONTH" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.
122. Create a Y2K sticker-collage graphic for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a work-from-home desk with laptop, plant, headphones, notebook, stars, and swirling thought lines. Integrate the exact headline "ADHD AWARENESS" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	123. Create a vintage collegiate shirt design for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a calendar-and-clock composition with colorful tabs, arrows, coffee, and energetic doodle accents. Integrate the exact headline "CELEBRATE ADHD AWARENESS" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.

ADULT ADHD & WORK LIFE (CONTINUED)

124. Create a tattoo-flash inspired composition for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a creative office badge with laptop, lightbulb, sticky notes, pens, headphones, and brain icon. Integrate the exact headline "DIFFERENTLY WIRED" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	125. Create a western tooled-leather inspired badge for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a multitasking-inspired collage of tabs, lists, reminders, clocks, coffee, and bright idea symbols. Integrate the exact headline "SAME BRAIN • DIFFERENT ROUTE" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.
126. Create a kawaii character illustration for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a laptop with many colorful browser tabs, sticky notes, coffee, headphones, and idea sparks. Integrate the exact headline "MY BRAIN HAS TOO MANY TABS OPEN" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	127. Create a maximalist floral poster for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a busy desktop with planner, timer, pens, coffee, phone, sticky notes, and colorful checkboxes. Integrate the exact headline "BUSY BRAIN CLUB" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.
128. Create a minimalist typography design for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a work-from-home desk with laptop, plant, headphones, notebook, stars, and swirling thought lines. Integrate the exact headline "CREATIVELY DISTRACTED" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	129. Create a scrapbook collage aesthetic for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a calendar-and-clock composition with colorful tabs, arrows, coffee, and energetic doodle accents. Integrate the exact headline "CHAOTIC BUT CAPABLE" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.

FUNNY & RELATABLE SAYINGS

130. Create a minimalist typography design for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a laptop overflowing with dozens of colorful browser tabs, sticky notes, coffee, stars, and doodles. Integrate the exact headline "MY BRAIN HAS TOO MANY TABS OPEN" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	131. Create a scrapbook collage aesthetic for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a coffee cup surrounded by half-finished lists, clocks, pens, stars, and playful chaos. Integrate the exact headline "BUSY BRAIN CLUB" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.
132. Create a linocut printmaking graphic for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a planner with sections labeled visually by icons, overflowing sticky notes, arrows, and idea sparks. Integrate the exact headline "CREATIVELY DISTRACTED" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	133. Create a pop-art comic composition for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a cartoon brain juggling a clock, notebook, coffee, headphones, and colorful stars. Integrate the exact headline "CHAOTIC BUT CAPABLE" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.
134. Create a soft gouache poster for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a whirlwind of sticky notes, tabs, pencils, flowers, and lightning bolts around bold funny lettering. Integrate the exact headline "PROGRESS NOT PERFECTION" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	135. Create a bold retro groovy apparel graphic for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a cheerful brain icon beside a giant to-do list with colorful checkboxes, arrows, and doodles. Integrate the exact headline "MORE IDEAS THAN TIME" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.
136. Create a bright hand-drawn doodle illustration for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a laptop overflowing with dozens of colorful browser tabs, sticky notes, coffee, stars, and doodles. Integrate the exact headline "ADHD BRAINS THINK DIFFERENTLY" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	137. Create a clean modern vector badge for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a coffee cup surrounded by half-finished lists, clocks, pens, stars, and playful chaos. Integrate the exact headline "AWARENESS • ACCEPTANCE • SUPPORT" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.

FUNNY & RELATABLE SAYINGS (CONTINUED)

138. Create a soft watercolor-and-ink illustration for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a planner with sections labeled visually by icons, overflowing sticky notes, arrows, and idea sparks. Integrate the exact headline "DIFFERENT MINDS • BRIGHTER WORLD" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	139. Create a layered paper-cut composition for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a cartoon brain juggling a clock, notebook, coffee, headphones, and colorful stars. Integrate the exact headline "NEURODIVERSITY MATTERS" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.
140. Create a embroidered patch aesthetic for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a whirlwind of sticky notes, tabs, pencils, flowers, and lightning bolts around bold funny lettering. Integrate the exact headline "ATTENTION LOOKS DIFFERENT" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	141. Create a 3D puffy lettering and glossy icon design for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a cheerful brain icon beside a giant to-do list with colorful checkboxes, arrows, and doodles. Integrate the exact headline "EMBRACE DIFFERENT" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.
142. Create a Y2K sticker-collage graphic for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a laptop overflowing with dozens of colorful browser tabs, sticky notes, coffee, stars, and doodles. Integrate the exact headline "SUPPORT ADHD AWARENESS" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	143. Create a vintage collegiate shirt design for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a coffee cup surrounded by half-finished lists, clocks, pens, stars, and playful chaos. Integrate the exact headline "UNDERSTANDING CREATES INCLUSION" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.
144. Create a tattoo-flash inspired composition for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a planner with sections labeled visually by icons, overflowing sticky notes, arrows, and idea sparks. Integrate the exact headline "ADHD AWARENESS MONTH" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	145. Create a western tooled-leather inspired badge for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a cartoon brain juggling a clock, notebook, coffee, headphones, and colorful stars. Integrate the exact headline "OCTOBER IS ADHD AWARENESS MONTH" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.

FUNNY & RELATABLE SAYINGS (CONTINUED)

146. Create a kawaii character illustration for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a whirlwind of sticky notes, tabs, pencils, flowers, and lightning bolts around bold funny lettering. Integrate the exact headline "ADHD AWARENESS" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	147. Create a maximalist floral poster for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a cheerful brain icon beside a giant to-do list with colorful checkboxes, arrows, and doodles. Integrate the exact headline "CELEBRATE ADHD AWARENESS" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.
148. Create a minimalist typography design for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a laptop overflowing with dozens of colorful browser tabs, sticky notes, coffee, stars, and doodles. Integrate the exact headline "DIFFERENTLY WIRED" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	149. Create a scrapbook collage aesthetic for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a coffee cup surrounded by half-finished lists, clocks, pens, stars, and playful chaos. Integrate the exact headline "SAME BRAIN • DIFFERENT ROUTE" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.
150. Create a linocut printmaking graphic for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a planner with sections labeled visually by icons, overflowing sticky notes, arrows, and idea sparks. Integrate the exact headline "MY BRAIN HAS TOO MANY TABS OPEN" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.

CREATIVE HOBBIES & INTERESTS

151. Create a linocut printmaking graphic for ADHD Awareness Month featuring an art-supply explosion of paintbrushes, markers, yarn, camera, music notes, and colorful idea sparks. Integrate the exact headline "PROGRESS NOT PERFECTION" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	152. Create a pop-art comic composition for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a craft desk with scissors, paper, stickers, pens, flowers, and a rainbow brain. Integrate the exact headline "MORE IDEAS THAN TIME" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.
153. Create a soft gouache poster for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a camera surrounded by photo prints, stars, flowers, sticky notes, and creative doodles. Integrate the exact headline "ADHD BRAINS THINK DIFFERENTLY" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	154. Create a bold retro groovy apparel graphic for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a stack of books with headphones, coffee, flowers, butterflies, and colorful tabs. Integrate the exact headline "AWARENESS • ACCEPTANCE • SUPPORT" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.
155. Create a bright hand-drawn doodle illustration for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a gaming-inspired setup with controller, headphones, stars, lightning bolts, and bright geometric accents. Integrate the exact headline "DIFFERENT MINDS • BRIGHTER WORLD" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	156. Create a clean modern vector badge for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a music-lover composition with headphones, records, notes, stars, flowers, and colorful brain imagery. Integrate the exact headline "NEURODIVERSITY MATTERS" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.
157. Create a soft watercolor-and-ink illustration for ADHD Awareness Month featuring an art-supply explosion of paintbrushes, markers, yarn, camera, music notes, and colorful idea sparks. Integrate the exact headline "ATTENTION LOOKS DIFFERENT" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	158. Create a layered paper-cut composition for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a craft desk with scissors, paper, stickers, pens, flowers, and a rainbow brain. Integrate the exact headline "EMBRACE DIFFERENT" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.

CREATIVE HOBBIES & INTERESTS (CONTINUED)

159. Create a embroidered patch aesthetic for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a camera surrounded by photo prints, stars, flowers, sticky notes, and creative doodles. Integrate the exact headline "SUPPORT ADHD AWARENESS" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	160. Create a 3D puffy lettering and glossy icon design for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a stack of books with headphones, coffee, flowers, butterflies, and colorful tabs. Integrate the exact headline "UNDERSTANDING CREATES INCLUSION" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.
161. Create a Y2K sticker-collage graphic for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a gaming-inspired setup with controller, headphones, stars, lightning bolts, and bright geometric accents. Integrate the exact headline "ADHD AWARENESS MONTH" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	162. Create a vintage collegiate shirt design for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a music-lover composition with headphones, records, notes, stars, flowers, and colorful brain imagery. Integrate the exact headline "OCTOBER IS ADHD AWARENESS MONTH" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.
163. Create a tattoo-flash inspired composition for ADHD Awareness Month featuring an art-supply explosion of paintbrushes, markers, yarn, camera, music notes, and colorful idea sparks. Integrate the exact headline "ADHD AWARENESS" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	164. Create a western tooled-leather inspired badge for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a craft desk with scissors, paper, stickers, pens, flowers, and a rainbow brain. Integrate the exact headline "CELEBRATE ADHD AWARENESS" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.
165. Create a kawaii character illustration for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a camera surrounded by photo prints, stars, flowers, sticky notes, and creative doodles. Integrate the exact headline "DIFFERENTLY WIRED" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	166. Create a maximalist floral poster for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a stack of books with headphones, coffee, flowers, butterflies, and colorful tabs. Integrate the exact headline "SAME BRAIN • DIFFERENT ROUTE" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.

CREATIVE HOBBIES & INTERESTS (CONTINUED)

167. Create a minimalist typography design for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a gaming-inspired setup with controller, headphones, stars, lightning bolts, and bright geometric accents. Integrate the exact headline "MY BRAIN HAS TOO MANY TABS OPEN" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	168. Create a scrapbook collage aesthetic for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a music-lover composition with headphones, records, notes, stars, flowers, and colorful brain imagery. Integrate the exact headline "BUSY BRAIN CLUB" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.
169. Create a linocut printmaking graphic for ADHD Awareness Month featuring an art-supply explosion of paintbrushes, markers, yarn, camera, music notes, and colorful idea sparks. Integrate the exact headline "CREATIVELY DISTRACTED" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	170. Create a pop-art comic composition for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a craft desk with scissors, paper, stickers, pens, flowers, and a rainbow brain. Integrate the exact headline "CHAOTIC BUT CAPABLE" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.

ANIMALS & CUTE CHARACTERS

171. Create a soft gouache poster for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a cute smiling butterfly with rainbow wings, flowers, stars, and a tiny brain motif. Integrate the exact headline "MORE IDEAS THAN TIME" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	172. Create a bold retro groovy apparel graphic for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a cheerful cat beside sticky notes, books, coffee, stars, and colorful doodles. Integrate the exact headline "ADHD BRAINS THINK DIFFERENTLY" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.
173. Create a bright hand-drawn doodle illustration for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a happy dog wearing glasses beside books, pencils, flowers, and a rainbow brain. Integrate the exact headline "AWARENESS • ACCEPTANCE • SUPPORT" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	174. Create a clean modern vector badge for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a kawaii frog with notebook, pencil, stars, flowers, and colorful thought bubbles. Integrate the exact headline "DIFFERENT MINDS • BRIGHTER WORLD" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.
175. Create a soft watercolor-and-ink illustration for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a cute bee flying along a looping dotted path around flowers, hearts, and awareness lettering. Integrate the exact headline "NEURODIVERSITY MATTERS" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	176. Create a layered paper-cut composition for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a smiling brain character with sneakers, stars, lightning bolts, flowers, and tiny hearts. Integrate the exact headline "ATTENTION LOOKS DIFFERENT" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.
177. Create a embroidered patch aesthetic for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a cute smiling butterfly with rainbow wings, flowers, stars, and a tiny brain motif. Integrate the exact headline "EMBRACE DIFFERENT" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	178. Create a 3D puffy lettering and glossy icon design for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a cheerful cat beside sticky notes, books, coffee, stars, and colorful doodles. Integrate the exact headline "SUPPORT ADHD AWARENESS" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.

ANIMALS & CUTE CHARACTERS (CONTINUED)

179. Create a Y2K sticker-collage graphic for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a happy dog wearing glasses beside books, pencils, flowers, and a rainbow brain. Integrate the exact headline "UNDERSTANDING CREATES INCLUSION" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	180. Create a vintage collegiate shirt design for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a kawaii frog with notebook, pencil, stars, flowers, and colorful thought bubbles. Integrate the exact headline "ADHD AWARENESS MONTH" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.
181. Create a tattoo-flash inspired composition for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a cute bee flying along a looping dotted path around flowers, hearts, and awareness lettering. Integrate the exact headline "OCTOBER IS ADHD AWARENESS MONTH" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	182. Create a western tooled-leather inspired badge for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a smiling brain character with sneakers, stars, lightning bolts, flowers, and tiny hearts. Integrate the exact headline "ADHD AWARENESS" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.
183. Create a kawaii character illustration for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a cute smiling butterfly with rainbow wings, flowers, stars, and a tiny brain motif. Integrate the exact headline "CELEBRATE ADHD AWARENESS" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	184. Create a maximalist floral poster for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a cheerful cat beside sticky notes, books, coffee, stars, and colorful doodles. Integrate the exact headline "DIFFERENTLY WIRED" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.
185. Create a minimalist typography design for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a happy dog wearing glasses beside books, pencils, flowers, and a rainbow brain. Integrate the exact headline "SAME BRAIN • DIFFERENT ROUTE" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	186. Create a scrapbook collage aesthetic for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a kawaii frog with notebook, pencil, stars, flowers, and colorful thought bubbles. Integrate the exact headline "MY BRAIN HAS TOO MANY TABS OPEN" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.

ANIMALS & CUTE CHARACTERS (CONTINUED)

187. Create a linocut printmaking graphic for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a cute bee flying along a looping dotted path around flowers, hearts, and awareness lettering. Integrate the exact headline "BUSY BRAIN CLUB" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	188. Create a pop-art comic composition for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a smiling brain character with sneakers, stars, lightning bolts, flowers, and tiny hearts. Integrate the exact headline "CREATIVELY DISTRACTED" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.
189. Create a soft gouache poster for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a cute smiling butterfly with rainbow wings, flowers, stars, and a tiny brain motif. Integrate the exact headline "CHAOTIC BUT CAPABLE" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.

FLORALS, NATURE & BUTTERFLIES

190. Create a bright hand-drawn doodle illustration for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a maximalist butterfly garden with daisies, hibiscus-like flowers, leaves, hearts, and stars. Integrate the exact headline "ADHD BRAINS THINK DIFFERENTLY" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	191. Create a clean modern vector badge for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a rainbow brain blooming into flowers and butterflies with lush botanical framing. Integrate the exact headline "AWARENESS • ACCEPTANCE • SUPPORT" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.
192. Create a soft watercolor-and-ink illustration for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a floral wreath made from bright daisies, roses, leaves, tiny butterflies, and awareness icons. Integrate the exact headline "DIFFERENT MINDS • BRIGHTER WORLD" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	193. Create a layered paper-cut composition for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a botanical brain formed from vines, wildflowers, leaves, and small colorful butterflies. Integrate the exact headline "NEURODIVERSITY MATTERS" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.
194. Create a embroidered patch aesthetic for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a field of bright wildflowers with looping butterfly trails, stars, hearts, and a sunrise. Integrate the exact headline "ATTENTION LOOKS DIFFERENT" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	195. Create a 3D puffy lettering and glossy icon design for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a large stained-glass inspired butterfly surrounded by florals, stars, and colorful geometric shapes. Integrate the exact headline "EMBRACE DIFFERENT" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.
196. Create a Y2K sticker-collage graphic for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a maximalist butterfly garden with daisies, hibiscus-like flowers, leaves, hearts, and stars. Integrate the exact headline "SUPPORT ADHD AWARENESS" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	197. Create a vintage collegiate shirt design for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a rainbow brain blooming into flowers and butterflies with lush botanical framing. Integrate the exact headline "UNDERSTANDING CREATES INCLUSION" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.

FLORALS, NATURE & BUTTERFLIES (CONTINUED)

198. Create a tattoo-flash inspired composition for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a floral wreath made from bright daisies, roses, leaves, tiny butterflies, and awareness icons. Integrate the exact headline "ADHD AWARENESS MONTH" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	199. Create a western tooled-leather inspired badge for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a botanical brain formed from vines, wildflowers, leaves, and small colorful butterflies. Integrate the exact headline "OCTOBER IS ADHD AWARENESS MONTH" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.
200. Create a kawaii character illustration for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a field of bright wildflowers with looping butterfly trails, stars, hearts, and a sunrise. Integrate the exact headline "ADHD AWARENESS" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	201. Create a maximalist floral poster for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a large stained-glass inspired butterfly surrounded by florals, stars, and colorful geometric shapes. Integrate the exact headline "CELEBRATE ADHD AWARENESS" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.
202. Create a minimalist typography design for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a maximalist butterfly garden with daisies, hibiscus-like flowers, leaves, hearts, and stars. Integrate the exact headline "DIFFERENTLY WIRED" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	203. Create a scrapbook collage aesthetic for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a rainbow brain blooming into flowers and butterflies with lush botanical framing. Integrate the exact headline "SAME BRAIN • DIFFERENT ROUTE" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.
204. Create a linocut printmaking graphic for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a floral wreath made from bright daisies, roses, leaves, tiny butterflies, and awareness icons. Integrate the exact headline "MY BRAIN HAS TOO MANY TABS OPEN" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	205. Create a pop-art comic composition for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a botanical brain formed from vines, wildflowers, leaves, and small colorful butterflies. Integrate the exact headline "BUSY BRAIN CLUB" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.

RETRO, Y2K & AESTHETIC STYLES

206. Create a soft watercolor-and-ink illustration for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a 1970s groovy rainbow with daisies, smiley faces, checkerboard accents, and chunky bubble type. Integrate the exact headline "AWARENESS • ACCEPTANCE • SUPPORT" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	207. Create a layered paper-cut composition for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a Y2K sticker-bomb collage with chrome stars, butterflies, hearts, lightning bolts, and bubbly type. Integrate the exact headline "DIFFERENT MINDS • BRIGHTER WORLD" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.
208. Create an embroidered patch aesthetic for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a 1990s-inspired checkerboard composition with smileys, flowers, squiggles, and colorful brain icons. Integrate the exact headline "NEURODIVERSITY MATTERS" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	209. Create a 3D puffy lettering and glossy icon design for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a retro collegiate crest with brain icon, stars, lightning bolts, and varsity block lettering. Integrate the exact headline "ATTENTION LOOKS DIFFERENT" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.
210. Create a Y2K sticker-collage graphic for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a glossy 3D puffy-letter design with inflated hearts, stars, flowers, and a colorful brain. Integrate the exact headline "EMBRACE DIFFERENT" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	211. Create a vintage collegiate shirt design for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a soft pastel coquette-inspired awareness design with bows, florals, butterflies, and elegant type. Integrate the exact headline "SUPPORT ADHD AWARENESS" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.
212. Create a tattoo-flash inspired composition for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a dark-academia composition with books, botanical engravings, coffee, antique frames, and subtle brain imagery. Integrate the exact headline "UNDERSTANDING CREATES INCLUSION" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	213. Create a western tooled-leather inspired badge for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a 1970s groovy rainbow with daisies, smiley faces, checkerboard accents, and chunky bubble type. Integrate the exact headline "ADHD AWARENESS MONTH" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.

RETRO, Y2K & AESTHETIC STYLES (CONTINUED)

214. Create a kawaii character illustration for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a Y2K sticker-bomb collage with chrome stars, butterflies, hearts, lightning bolts, and bubbly type. Integrate the exact headline "OCTOBER IS ADHD AWARENESS MONTH" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	215. Create a maximalist floral poster for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a 1990s-inspired checkerboard composition with smileys, flowers, squiggles, and colorful brain icons. Integrate the exact headline "ADHD AWARENESS" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.
216. Create a minimalist typography design for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a retro collegiate crest with brain icon, stars, lightning bolts, and varsity block lettering. Integrate the exact headline "CELEBRATE ADHD AWARENESS" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	217. Create a scrapbook collage aesthetic for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a glossy 3D puffy-letter design with inflated hearts, stars, flowers, and a colorful brain. Integrate the exact headline "DIFFERENTLY WIRED" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.
218. Create a linocut printmaking graphic for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a soft pastel coquette-inspired awareness design with bows, florals, butterflies, and elegant type. Integrate the exact headline "SAME BRAIN • DIFFERENT ROUTE" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	219. Create a pop-art comic composition for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a dark-academia composition with books, botanical engravings, coffee, antique frames, and subtle brain imagery. Integrate the exact headline "MY BRAIN HAS TOO MANY TABS OPEN" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.

TATTOO, WESTERN & ALTERNATIVE

220. Create a embroidered patch aesthetic for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a tattoo-flash brain with roses, lightning bolts, stars, and a classic ribbon banner. Integrate the exact headline "DIFFERENT MINDS • BRIGHTER WORLD" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	221. Create a 3D puffy lettering and glossy icon design for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a western badge with tooled floral details, stars, boots, lightning bolts, and bold slab-serif lettering. Integrate the exact headline "NEURODIVERSITY MATTERS" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.
222. Create a Y2K sticker-collage graphic for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a gothic botanical brain surrounded by moths, dark florals, stars, and ornamental framing. Integrate the exact headline "ATTENTION LOOKS DIFFERENT" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	223. Create a vintage collegiate shirt design for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a punk collage with torn-paper textures, checkerboard, safety-pin shapes, stars, and distressed type. Integrate the exact headline "EMBRACE DIFFERENT" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.
224. Create a tattoo-flash inspired composition for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a traditional tattoo-style butterfly with flowers, stars, lightning bolts, and awareness banner. Integrate the exact headline "SUPPORT ADHD AWARENESS" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	225. Create a western tooled-leather inspired badge for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a desert-western composition with cactus, flowers, sun rays, stars, and a small colorful brain emblem. Integrate the exact headline "UNDERSTANDING CREATES INCLUSION" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.
226. Create a kawaii character illustration for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a tattoo-flash brain with roses, lightning bolts, stars, and a classic ribbon banner. Integrate the exact headline "ADHD AWARENESS MONTH" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	227. Create a maximalist floral poster for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a western badge with tooled floral details, stars, boots, lightning bolts, and bold slab-serif lettering. Integrate the exact headline "OCTOBER IS ADHD AWARENESS MONTH" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.

TATTOO, WESTERN & ALTERNATIVE (CONTINUED)

228. Create a minimalist typography design for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a gothic botanical brain surrounded by moths, dark florals, stars, and ornamental framing. Integrate the exact headline "ADHD AWARENESS" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	229. Create a scrapbook collage aesthetic for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a punk collage with torn-paper textures, checkerboard, safety-pin shapes, stars, and distressed type. Integrate the exact headline "CELEBRATE ADHD AWARENESS" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.
230. Create a linocut printmaking graphic for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a traditional tattoo-style butterfly with flowers, stars, lightning bolts, and awareness banner. Integrate the exact headline "DIFFERENTLY WIRED" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	231. Create a pop-art comic composition for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a desert-western composition with cactus, flowers, sun rays, stars, and a small colorful brain emblem. Integrate the exact headline "SAME BRAIN • DIFFERENT ROUTE" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.
232. Create a soft gouache poster for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a tattoo-flash brain with roses, lightning bolts, stars, and a classic ribbon banner. Integrate the exact headline "MY BRAIN HAS TOO MANY TABS OPEN" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	233. Create a bold retro groovy apparel graphic for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a western badge with tooled floral details, stars, boots, lightning bolts, and bold slab-serif lettering. Integrate the exact headline "BUSY BRAIN CLUB" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.
234. Create a bright hand-drawn doodle illustration for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a gothic botanical brain surrounded by moths, dark florals, stars, and ornamental framing. Integrate the exact headline "CREATIVELY DISTRACTED" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	235. Create a clean modern vector badge for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a punk collage with torn-paper textures, checkerboard, safety-pin shapes, stars, and distressed type. Integrate the exact headline "CHAOTIC BUT CAPABLE" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.

TATTOO, WESTERN & ALTERNATIVE (CONTINUED)

236. Create a soft watercolor-and-ink illustration for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a traditional tattoo-style butterfly with flowers, stars, lightning bolts, and awareness banner. Integrate the exact headline "PROGRESS NOT PERFECTION" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	237. Create a layered paper-cut composition for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a desert-western composition with cactus, flowers, sun rays, stars, and a small colorful brain emblem. Integrate the exact headline "MORE IDEAS THAN TIME" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.
238. Create a embroidered patch aesthetic for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a tattoo-flash brain with roses, lightning bolts, stars, and a classic ribbon banner. Integrate the exact headline "ADHD BRAINS THINK DIFFERENTLY" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	239. Create a 3D puffy lettering and glossy icon design for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a western badge with tooled floral details, stars, boots, lightning bolts, and bold slab-serif lettering. Integrate the exact headline "AWARENESS • ACCEPTANCE • SUPPORT" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.
240. Create a Y2K sticker-collage graphic for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a gothic botanical brain surrounded by moths, dark florals, stars, and ornamental framing. Integrate the exact headline "DIFFERENT MINDS • BRIGHTER WORLD" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.	241. Create a vintage collegiate shirt design for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a punk collage with torn-paper textures, checkerboard, safety-pin shapes, stars, and distressed type. Integrate the exact headline "NEURODIVERSITY MATTERS" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.
242. Create a tattoo-flash inspired composition for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a traditional tattoo-style butterfly with flowers, stars, lightning bolts, and awareness banner. Integrate the exact headline "ATTENTION LOOKS DIFFERENT" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.

BONUS PROMPTS & EXTRA IDEAS

243. Create a vintage collegiate shirt design for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a premium embroidered jacket-back graphic with brain, butterflies, florals, stars, and awareness lettering. Integrate the exact headline "NEURODIVERSITY MATTERS" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.

245. Create a western tooled-leather inspired badge for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a modern streetwear back print with oversized typography, halftone brain imagery, stars, and distressed textures. Integrate the exact headline "EMBRACE DIFFERENT" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.

247. Create a maximalist floral poster for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a scrapbook page combining sticky notes, coffee, planner, flowers, butterflies, stars, and colorful brain art. Integrate the exact headline "UNDERSTANDING CREATES INCLUSION" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.

249. Create a scrapbook collage aesthetic for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a minimalist awareness design using one continuous-line brain, small heart, three stars, and bold clean type. Integrate the exact headline "OCTOBER IS ADHD AWARENESS MONTH" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.

244. Create a tattoo-flash inspired composition for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a collectible postage-stamp sheet aesthetic with tiny brains, books, butterflies, flowers, and awareness icons. Integrate the exact headline "ATTENTION LOOKS DIFFERENT" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.

246. Create a kawaii character illustration for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a classroom-friendly educational poster with brain, books, rainbow, butterflies, and simple supportive symbols. Integrate the exact headline "SUPPORT ADHD AWARENESS" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.

248. Create a minimalist typography design for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a stained-glass brain-and-butterfly centerpiece with jewel-tone flowers and radiant geometric framing. Integrate the exact headline "ADHD AWARENESS MONTH" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.

250. Create a linocut printmaking graphic for ADHD Awareness Month featuring a maximalist collage combining books, coffee, art supplies, butterflies, florals, tabs, clocks, and a rainbow brain. Integrate the exact headline "ADHD AWARENESS" as the primary readable text. Keep the message supportive and non-stigmatizing, avoiding claims that every person experiences ADHD the same way. Use accurate readable English text only, no pseudo-text, no extra letters, no watermark. Keep the composition polished, high contrast, print-ready, and suitable for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers, or prints.

END OF PROMPT PACK

250 prompts complete • ADHD Awareness Month • October