

SWEET TREATS. SPOOKY CHARACTERS.

250 funny candy & character design prompts

12 themed collections. Big ideas for shirts, mugs, totes, stickers and printable graphics.

BLACK + NEON EDITION

Neon pages. Muted Halloween artwork palettes. Recognizable candy shapes, generic wrappers and original characters.

COZY COLOR. BOLD IDEAS.

These are the merchandise colors used inside the prompts.

CLASSIC CANDY NIGHT

Pumpkin #C77838	Mustard #D0AF59	Ivory #F2E5CE	Cocoa #58382D	Charcoal #343037

WITCHING HOUR

Plum #654866	Sage #899575	Ivory #EFE3CD	Rust #AD6747	Charcoal #332F38

CARAMEL CRYPT

Caramel #B88755	Chocolate #5C3E30	Cream #F1DFC5	Olive #87845B	Terracotta #B9785C

RETRO TRICK OR TREAT

Burnt orange #BA6436	Avocado #818550	Mustard #B69B42	Chocolate #5C3D2C	Ivory #F0E5D1

PASTEL BOO

Dusty rose #C2939B	Lavender #A396B6	Soft peach #E9B79A	Cream #F2E5D4	Espresso #4E3831

HAUNTED FRONTIER

Terracotta #B77458	Tan #C6A27C	Turquoise #608F91	Chocolate #543A2D	Antique gold #AF924E

01

CANDY CORN & PUMPKIN SWEETS

22 ORIGINAL CONCEPTS / 001-022

Triangular classics, pumpkin-shaped sweets and candy-corn characters.

HOW TO USE

Copy one complete prompt into your image generator. Keep its exact text rule, generic-candy details and isolation requirements. Review the generated lettering and details before production.

001

CORN TO BE SPOOKY

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A three-band candy corn witch balances on a tiny broom, keeping its yellow base, orange middle and ivory tip clearly visible. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: groovy 70s. Use flowing rounded forms, sweeping organic contours, offset muted-color shadows and an upbeat vintage rhythm. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Retro Trick Or Treat: burnt orange #BA6436, avocado #818550, mustard #B69B42, chocolate #5C3D2C, ivory #F0E5D1. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in heavy rounded display lettering. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details.

TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "CORN TO BE SPOOKY" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

002

CANDY CORN COURT

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A candy corn judge in a little cape hears a polite complaint from a sugar pumpkin whose stem has been used as a hat rack. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: vintage engraving. Use controlled crosshatching and curved engraved contours, concentrating shadow under overlaps and preserving large open highlights. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Caramel Crypt: caramel #B88755, chocolate #5C3E30, cream #F1DFC5, olive #87845B, terracotta #B9785C. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "CANDY CORN COURT" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

003

TRIANGLE OF TERROR

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. Three candy corn friends attempt a frightening pose, but their oversized mittens and shy expressions spoil the effect. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: cute sticker art. Use a unified bold outer contour, simple cel shading and friendly expressions; any sticker-style rim must follow the artwork silhouette. Arrange the character group in a compact shallow arc, varying poses and heights while retaining one unified merchandise silhouette and a separate wording zone. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Classic Candy Night: pumpkin #C77838, mustard #D0AF59, ivory #F2E5CE, cocoa #58382D, charcoal #343037. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in heavy rounded display lettering. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "TRIANGLE OF TERROR" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

004

CORN ON THE COBWEB

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A candy corn farmer pulls a single chunky cobweb from a pumpkin-shaped candy using a miniature rake. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: rustic western. Use weathered ink fills, sturdy rounded contours and warm ranch-kitchen textures confined to the subject, with original generic western accessories. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Haunted Frontier: terracotta #B77458, tan #C6A27C, turquoise #608F91, chocolate #543A2D, antique gold #AF924E. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "CORN ON THE COBWEB" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

005

CANDY CORN CROSSING

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A candy corn traffic guard escorts two sugar pumpkins across a bridge made of an unlettered folded wrapper. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: mid-century illustration. Use clean period-inspired outlines, warm flat-color fills, restrained print-grain texture and expressive original mascot gestures; preserve broad highlights. Use a balanced central arrangement with broad simple shapes, asymmetrical supporting accents and generous breathing room around the main gesture. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Caramel Crypt: caramel #B88755, chocolate #5C3E30, cream #F1DFC5, olive #87845B, terracotta #B9785C. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "CANDY CORN CROSSING" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

006

TIP TOP TRICKSTER

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A candy corn acrobat balances on its ivory tip while a pumpkin candy holds a safety net of broad licorice strands. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: retro comic cover. Create a lively self-contained comic vignette with dramatic diagonals, expressive ink drawing and localized halftone bursts; no rectangular cover frame. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Classic Candy Night: pumpkin #C77838, mustard #D0AF59, ivory #F2E5CE, cocoa #58382D, charcoal #343037. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "TIP TOP TRICKSTER" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

007

SWEET LITTLE HEXAGON

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. Six candy corns form a flower-shaped spell circle around a grinning pumpkin candy with a tiny wizard hat. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: folk art. Use decorative symmetry where suitable, broad painted shapes, simple warm patterns and deliberately handmade contour variation. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Witching Hour: plum #654866, sage #899575, ivory #EFE3CD, rust #AD6747, charcoal #332F38. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "SWEET LITTLE HEXAGON" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

008

CORN CREW NIGHT SHIFT

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A candy corn repair team fixes a pumpkin bucket handle using a licorice rope and a gumdrop toolbox. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: vintage mascot. Use clean period-inspired outlines, warm flat-color fills, restrained print-grain texture and expressive original mascot gestures; preserve broad highlights. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Retro Trick Or Treat: burnt orange #BA6436, avocado #818550, mustard #B69B42, chocolate #5C3D2C, ivory #F0E5D1. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "CORN CREW NIGHT SHIFT" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

009

CORN FANG CLUB

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A candy corn vampire practices smiling in a tiny hand mirror while two removable sugar fangs sit on a saucer. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: cartoon mascot. Use clean period-inspired outlines, warm flat-color fills, restrained print-grain texture and expressive original mascot gestures; preserve broad highlights. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Classic Candy Night: pumpkin #C77838, mustard #D0AF59, ivory #F2E5CE, cocoa #58382D, charcoal #343037. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "CORN FANG CLUB" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

010

SUGAR PUMPKIN PATCH

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. Three ridged orange pumpkin candies sprout chunky green stems and tiny boots while a candy corn gardener waters them. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: clay-like 3D. Use hand-shaped clay volume, softly rounded edges, subtle finger-smoothed texture and diffuse studio lighting without a floor or cast backdrop. Build one compact self-contained vignette with a strong irregular outer silhouette; use supporting details to frame the interaction rather than fill the surrounding canvas. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Witching Hour: plum #654866, sage #899575, ivory #EFE3CD, rust #AD6747, charcoal #332F38. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

ART-ONLY RULE: No words, letters, numbers, labels or pseudo-text anywhere in the artwork. Let the character interaction carry the entire concept. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

011

KERNEL OF CHAOS

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A candy corn inventor powers a pumpkin-candy windmill with a tiny caramel gear and looks surprised by its success. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: comic-book art. Use dynamic ink contours, selective halftone shadows and two or three strong motion accents that reinforce the action. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Caramel Crypt: caramel #B88755, chocolate #5C3E30, cream #F1DFC5, olive #87845B, terracotta #B9785C. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "KERNEL OF CHAOS" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

012

CORN FORT COMFORT

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. Candy corn friends build a blanket fort using a folded generic wrapper and one pumpkin-candy pillow. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: heirloom appliqué. Render softly padded fabric forms with felt edges, generous blanket stitching and restrained cotton patterns; all stitching is printed illustration. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Classic Candy Night: pumpkin #C77838, mustard #D0AF59, ivory #F2E5CE, cocoa #58382D, charcoal #343037. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "CORN FORT COMFORT" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

013

CANDY CORN CARPOOL

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A smiling pumpkin candy drives a little bucket car while three candy corns hang out of the open top wearing scarves. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: retro 60s. Use clean period-inspired outlines, warm flat-color fills, restrained print-grain texture and expressive original mascot gestures; preserve broad highlights. Arrange the character group in a compact shallow arc, varying poses and heights while retaining one unified merchandise silhouette and a separate wording zone. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Retro Trick Or Treat: burnt orange #BA6436, avocado #818550, mustard #B69B42, chocolate #5C3D2C, ivory #F0E5D1. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "CANDY CORN CARPOOL" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

014

SUGAR PUMPKIN SHERIFF

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A ridged pumpkin candy in a western hat gently corrals wandering candy corns with a broad caramel lasso. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: western. Use sturdy hand-inked forms, leather-like warm shading, rope curves and a restrained western lettering treatment without tiny decorative spurs. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Haunted Frontier: terracotta #B77458, tan #C6A27C, turquoise #608F91, chocolate #543A2D, antique gold #AF924E. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "SUGAR PUMPKIN SHERIFF" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

015

CORN TO THE RESCUE

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A candy corn firefighter lowers a licorice ladder to a pumpkin candy stranded on a tall marshmallow tower. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: retro comic cover. Create a lively self-contained comic vignette with dramatic diagonals, expressive ink drawing and localized halftone bursts; no rectangular cover frame. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Classic Candy Night: pumpkin #C77838, mustard #D0AF59, ivory #F2E5CE, cocoa #58382D, charcoal #343037. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "CORN TO THE RESCUE" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

016

CANDY CORN CHESS CLUB

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A candy corn knight faces a pumpkin-candy rook on four large checkerboard squares with no surrounding board. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: minimal modern. Reduce objects to precise geometric silhouettes with a small number of rounded expressive details and generous internal breathing room. Use a balanced central arrangement with broad simple shapes, asymmetrical supporting accents and generous breathing room around the main gesture. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Witching Hour: plum #654866, sage #899575, ivory #EFE3CD, rust #AD6747, charcoal #332F38. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "CANDY CORN CHESS CLUB" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

017

SWEET AND POINTY

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A shy candy corn carries an oversize knitted scarf that wraps around its triangular shape without hiding its three bands. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: embroidery-inspired art. Use chunky thread direction, satin-stitch fills and visible stitched contours; keep thread details subordinate to the large readable shapes. Arrange the character group in a compact shallow arc, varying poses and heights while retaining one unified merchandise silhouette and a separate wording zone. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Caramel Crypt: caramel #B88755, chocolate #5C3E30, cream #F1DFC5, olive #87845B, terracotta #B9785C. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "SWEET AND POINTY" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

018

CORN MOON RISING

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A candy corn astronaut plants a plain leaf flag on a sugar-pumpkin moon while a gumdrop satellite circles above. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: glossy puffy 3D. Use rounded inflated volumes, smooth resin surfaces, broad polished highlights and soft contact shadows; keep separate objects clearly distinguishable. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Classic Candy Night: pumpkin #C77838, mustard #D0AF59, ivory #F2E5CE, cocoa #58382D, charcoal #343037. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "CORN MOON RISING" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

019

PUMPKIN CANDY PROMOTER

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A confident sugar pumpkin in a bow tie presents a tiny candy corn performer standing on an overturned bucket. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: vintage advertising. Use clean period-inspired outlines, warm flat-color fills, restrained print-grain texture and expressive original mascot gestures; preserve broad highlights. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Retro Trick Or Treat: burnt orange #BA6436, avocado #818550, mustard #B69B42, chocolate #5C3D2C, ivory #F0E5D1. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "PUMPKIN CANDY PROMOTER" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

020

CORN BELIEVE MY EYES

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A candy corn magician pulls a pumpkin candy from an empty witch hat while a gummy worm applauds. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: vintage diner. Use clean period-inspired outlines, warm flat-color fills, restrained print-grain texture and expressive original mascot gestures; preserve broad highlights. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Retro Trick Or Treat: burnt orange #BA6436, avocado #818550, mustard #B69B42, chocolate #5C3D2C, ivory #F0E5D1. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "CORN BELIEVE MY EYES" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

021

CANDY CORN BATLET

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A tiny bat carries a single candy corn in a folded leaf sling, with two pumpkin candies peeking from a nearby bucket. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: whimsical storybook. Use warm hand-painted shading, gently irregular contours and expressive poses, with simplified props and a readable central vignette. Build one compact self-contained vignette with a strong irregular outer silhouette; use supporting details to frame the interaction rather than fill the surrounding canvas. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Classic Candy Night: pumpkin #C77838, mustard #D0AF59, ivory #F2E5CE, cocoa #58382D, charcoal #343037. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

ART-ONLY RULE: No words, letters, numbers, labels or pseudo-text anywhere in the artwork. Let the character interaction carry the entire concept. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

022

NO CORN LEFT BEHIND

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A tall candy corn scout helps a smaller one climb a folded-wrapper hill using a cinnamon-free licorice walking rope. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: linocut. Use crisp carved contours, broad flat ink areas and sparse texture inside shapes; retain deliberate negative-space channels. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Witching Hour: plum #654866, sage #899575, ivory #EFE3CD, rust #AD6747, charcoal #332F38. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "NO CORN LEFT BEHIND" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

02

CHOCOLATE & PEANUT BUTTER CHAOS

18 ORIGINAL CONCEPTS / 023-040

Chocolate bars, fluted peanut-butter cups, wafers and filled treats.

HOW TO USE

Copy one complete prompt into your image generator. Keep its exact text rule, generic-candy details and isolation requirements. Review the generated lettering and details before production.

023

PEANUT BUTTER NIGHT OWL

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A round fluted chocolate peanut-butter cup wears owl spectacles and guards a tiny pumpkin bucket beneath broad chocolate wings. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: dark academia. Use antique-style ink contours, warm paper-like highlights inside the artwork and thoughtful botanical accents without an actual paper backdrop. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Classic Candy Night: pumpkin #C77838, mustard #D0AF59, ivory #F2E5CE, cocoa #58382D, charcoal #343037. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "PEANUT BUTTER NIGHT OWL" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

024

BAR NONE SPOOKY

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A plain six-segment chocolate bar flexes its wrapper cape while one unwrapped square timidly peeks behind it. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: distressed screen print. Use four or five separable ink-like color areas and light wear inside large fills; distress must never erode important lettering. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Witching Hour: plum #654866, sage #899575, ivory #EFE3CD, rust #AD6747, charcoal #332F38. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "BAR NONE SPOOKY" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

025

CUP FANG CONFIDENCE

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A fluted peanut-butter cup vampire wears a satin cape and holds a tiny spoon mirror, with one cutaway showing tan filling. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: tattoo flash. Use clean period-inspired outlines, warm flat-color fills, restrained print-grain texture and expressive original mascot gestures; preserve broad highlights. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Caramel Crypt: caramel #B88755, chocolate #5C3E30, cream #F1DFC5, olive #87845B, terracotta #B9785C. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "CUP FANG CONFIDENCE" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

026

CHOCOLATE BREAKOUT

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. Three plain chocolate squares escape an unlettered foil wrapper using a licorice ladder and a gumdrop lookout. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: retro comic cover. Create a lively self-contained comic vignette with dramatic diagonals, expressive ink drawing and localized halftone bursts; no rectangular cover frame. Arrange the character group in a compact shallow arc, varying poses and heights while retaining one unified merchandise silhouette and a separate wording zone. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Classic Candy Night: pumpkin #C77838, mustard #D0AF59, ivory #F2E5CE, cocoa #58382D, charcoal #343037. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "CHOCOLATE BREAKOUT" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

027

NUTTY NIGHT WATCH

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A chocolate-coated peanut cluster guard sits on a pumpkin bucket rim holding a lollipop lantern with a worried expression. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: vintage mascot. Use clean period-inspired outlines, warm flat-color fills, restrained print-grain texture and expressive original mascot gestures; preserve broad highlights. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Retro Trick Or Treat: burnt orange #BA6436, avocado #818550, mustard #B69B42, chocolate #5C3D2C, ivory #F0E5D1. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "NUTTY NIGHT WATCH" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

028

WAFER WITCHCRAFT

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A layered chocolate-covered wafer finger witch stirs a tiny candy cauldron; one cut end reveals crisp wafer layers. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: hand-drawn illustration. Use clean period-inspired outlines, warm flat-color fills, restrained print-grain texture and expressive original mascot gestures; preserve broad highlights. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Caramel Crypt: caramel #B88755, chocolate #5C3E30, cream #F1DFC5, olive #87845B, terracotta #B9785C. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "WAFER WITCHCRAFT" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

029

CARMEL CORE CREW

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A cutaway chocolate caramel square captain leads two intact squares through a little wrapper tunnel with caramel rope. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: retro collegiate. Use rounded vintage collegiate lettering, sturdy mascot drawing and a compact crest arrangement with generous open counters. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Retro Trick Or Treat: burnt orange #BA6436, avocado #818550, mustard #B69B42, chocolate #5C3D2C, ivory #F0E5D1. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold collegiate block lettering. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "CARMEL CORE CREW" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

030

TRUFFLE TROUBLE AFTER DARK

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A round chocolate truffle in a top hat hides a sugar bat behind its back while pretending to be perfectly innocent. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: vintage advertising. Use clean period-inspired outlines, warm flat-color fills, restrained print-grain texture and expressive original mascot gestures; preserve broad highlights. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Retro Trick Or Treat: burnt orange #BA6436, avocado #818550, mustard #B69B42, chocolate #5C3D2C, ivory #F0E5D1. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "TRUFFLE TROUBLE AFTER DARK" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

031

CRISP RICE CRYPTID

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A friendly chocolate crisp-rice cluster creature raises chunky arms with visible rice texture and a little pumpkin backpack. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: woodcut. Use bold carved shapes, purposeful gouge marks and high-contrast solid areas; avoid fragile hairlines and excessive tiny hatching. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Caramel Crypt: caramel #B88755, chocolate #5C3E30, cream #F1DFC5, olive #87845B, terracotta #B9785C. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "CRISP RICE CRYPTID" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

032

MALLOW MOON GUARD

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A chocolate-coated marshmallow dome astronaut stands on a crescent biscuit moon with its fluffy white cutaway filling visible. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: glossy puffy 3D. Use rounded inflated volumes, smooth resin surfaces, broad polished highlights and soft contact shadows; keep separate objects clearly distinguishable. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Classic Candy Night: pumpkin #C77838, mustard #D0AF59, ivory #F2E5CE, cocoa #58382D, charcoal #343037. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "MALLOW MOON GUARD" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

033

PEANUT BUTTER CUP COVEN

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. Three fluted peanut-butter cups in different miniature witch hats gather around a round bowl of plain chocolate squares. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: clay-like 3D. Use hand-shaped clay volume, softly rounded edges, subtle finger-smoothed texture and diffuse studio lighting without a floor or cast backdrop. Build one compact self-contained vignette with a strong irregular outer silhouette; use supporting details to frame the interaction rather than fill the surrounding canvas. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Witching Hour: plum #654866, sage #899575, ivory #EFE3CD, rust #AD6747, charcoal #332F38. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

ART-ONLY RULE: No words, letters, numbers, labels or pseudo-text anywhere in the artwork. Let the character interaction carry the entire concept. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

034

SQUARELY SPOOKY

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. One segmented chocolate square skeleton wears pale sugar-bone markings and carries a little orange bucket. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: minimal modern. Reduce objects to precise geometric silhouettes with a small number of rounded expressive details and generous internal breathing room. Use a balanced central arrangement with broad simple shapes, asymmetrical supporting accents and generous breathing room around the main gesture. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Caramel Crypt: caramel #B88755, chocolate #5C3E30, cream #F1DFC5, olive #87845B, terracotta #B9785C. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "SQUARELY SPOOKY" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

035

DARK CHOCOLATE DAYDREAM

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A cocoa-dark chocolate bar naps in a bat-wing hammock with a folded-wrapper blanket and one pumpkin-shaped candy pillow. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: heirloom appliqué. Render softly padded fabric forms with felt edges, generous blanket stitching and restrained cotton patterns; all stitching is printed illustration. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Classic Candy Night: pumpkin #C77838, mustard #D0AF59, ivory #F2E5CE, cocoa #58382D, charcoal #343037. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "DARK CHOCOLATE DAYDREAM" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

036

CHOCOLATE COIN CAPTAIN

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A pirate ghost holds a chest of plain foil-wrapped chocolate discs, using a chocolate wafer as a miniature spyglass. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: cartoon mascot. Use clean period-inspired outlines, warm flat-color fills, restrained print-grain texture and expressive original mascot gestures; preserve broad highlights. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Witching Hour: plum #654866, sage #899575, ivory #EFE3CD, rust #AD6747, charcoal #332F38. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "CHOCOLATE COIN CAPTAIN" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

037

COCONUT GHOST COURIER

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A chocolate-coated coconut bar ghost delivers a pumpkin candy parcel, with a clean cutaway showing fibrous white filling. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: whimsical storybook. Use warm hand-painted shading, gently irregular contours and expressive poses, with simplified props and a readable central vignette. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Caramel Crypt: caramel #B88755, chocolate #5C3E30, cream #F1DFC5, olive #87845B, terracotta #B9785C. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "COCONUT GHOST COURIER" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

038

ALMOND AFTERLIFE CLUB

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A friendly mummy wraps a chocolate almond cluster in a narrow blank paper ribbon while leaving the nut shapes visible. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: vintage engraving. Use controlled crosshatching and curved engraved contours, concentrating shadow under overlaps and preserving large open highlights. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Classic Candy Night: pumpkin #C77838, mustard #D0AF59, ivory #F2E5CE, cocoa #58382D, charcoal #343037. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "ALMOND AFTERLIFE CLUB" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

039

CUPCAKE NO CUP REQUIRED

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A peanut-butter cup chef decorates itself with a tiny chocolate bat and a whipped-style sugar swirl, keeping its fluted sides clear. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: kawaii. Use compact rounded proportions, small widely spaced eyes, soft blush cheeks and tidy bold outlines; exaggerate the gesture rather than adding clutter. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Witching Hour: plum #654866, sage #899575, ivory #EFE3CD, rust #AD6747, charcoal #332F38. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in heavy rounded display lettering. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "CUPCAKE NO CUP REQUIRED" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

040

CHOCOLATE LAB NIGHT SHIFT

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A mad scientist chocolate square measures a caramel droplet using a spoon microscope and a gumdrop beaker. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: comic-book art. Use dynamic ink contours, selective halftone shadows and two or three strong motion accents that reinforce the action. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Caramel Crypt: caramel #B88755, chocolate #5C3E30, cream #F1DFC5, olive #87845B, terracotta #B9785C. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "CHOCOLATE LAB NIGHT SHIFT" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

03

GUMMIES & SOUR MISCHIEF

22 ORIGINAL CONCEPTS / 041-062

Gummy bears, worms, rings and sugar-coated sour candy adventures.

HOW TO USE

Copy one complete prompt into your image generator. Keep its exact text rule, generic-candy details and isolation requirements. Review the generated lettering and details before production.

041

WORM YOUR WAY INTO HALLOWEEN

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A two-tone gummy worm wiggles into a witch boot, with its segmented body and rounded smiling head clearly visible. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: cute sticker art. Use a unified bold outer contour, simple cel shading and friendly expressions; any sticker-style rim must follow the artwork silhouette. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Witching Hour: plum #654866, sage #899575, ivory #EFE3CD, rust #AD6747, charcoal #332F38. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in heavy rounded display lettering. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "WORM YOUR WAY INTO HALLOWEEN" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

042

SOUR POWER HOUR

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A sugar-dusted sour belt superhero bends into a cape shape while two gummy rings cheer from a pumpkin bowl. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: bold varsity. Use athletic block lettering, a compact emblem silhouette and strong flat shapes; all athletic details must be generic and unbranded. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Caramel Crypt: caramel #B88755, chocolate #5C3E30, cream #F1DFC5, olive #87845B, terracotta #B9785C. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold collegiate block lettering. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details.

TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "SOUR POWER HOUR" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

043

GUMMY BAT FLIGHT SCHOOL

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. Three translucent bat-shaped gummies practice flying above a spoon runway; one wears a tiny marshmallow helmet. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: clay-like 3D. Use hand-shaped clay volume, softly rounded edges, subtle finger-smoothed texture and diffuse studio lighting without a floor or cast backdrop. Arrange the character group in a compact shallow arc, varying poses and heights while retaining one unified merchandise silhouette and a separate wording zone. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Classic Candy Night: pumpkin #C77838, mustard #D0AF59, ivory #F2E5CE, cocoa #58382D, charcoal #343037. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in heavy rounded display lettering. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "GUMMY BAT FLIGHT SCHOOL" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

044

BEARLY SPOOKY

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A rounded gummy bear wears a bedsheet ghost costume that leaves its bear ears and paws visibly peeking out. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: kawaii. Use compact rounded proportions, small widely spaced eyes, soft blush cheeks and tidy bold outlines; exaggerate the gesture rather than adding clutter. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Witching Hour: plum #654866, sage #899575, ivory #EFE3CD, rust #AD6747, charcoal #332F38. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in heavy rounded display lettering. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details.

TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "BEARLY SPOOKY" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering.

Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

045

RING OF SWEETNESS

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A two-tone gummy peach ring magician uses its open center as a portal for a tiny friendly ghost. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: groovy 70s. Use flowing rounded forms, sweeping organic contours, offset muted-color shadows and an upbeat vintage rhythm. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Retro Trick Or Treat: burnt orange #BA6436, avocado #818550, mustard #B69B42, chocolate #5C3D2C, ivory #F0E5D1. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in heavy rounded display lettering. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details.

TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "RING OF SWEETNESS" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

046

SOUR FACE SWEET HEART

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A sour gummy wedge makes an exaggerated puckered expression while offering a little heart-shaped gumdrop to a ghost. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: cartoon mascot. Use clean period-inspired outlines, warm flat-color fills, restrained print-grain texture and expressive original mascot gestures; preserve broad highlights. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Classic Candy Night: pumpkin #C77838, mustard #D0AF59, ivory #F2E5CE, cocoa #58382D, charcoal #343037. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "SOUR FACE SWEET HEART" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

047

GUMMY WORM GARDENER

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A gummy worm cultivates sugar pumpkins in an overturned candy cup, carrying a tiny watering can made of plain foil. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: folk art. Use decorative symmetry where suitable, broad painted shapes, simple warm patterns and deliberately handmade contour variation. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Witching Hour: plum #654866, sage #899575, ivory #EFE3CD, rust #AD6747, charcoal #332F38. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "GUMMY WORM GARDENER" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

048

WOBBLY WITCH WORM

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A long gummy worm in a pointed hat struggles to hold a straight broom pose, curling into an amusing loose knot. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: doodle. Use playful confident hand-drawn lines, small gesture marks and sparse shading; avoid a surrounding scatter of unrelated icons. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Caramel Crypt: caramel #B88755, chocolate #5C3E30, cream #F1DFC5, olive #87845B, terracotta #B9785C. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "WOBBLY WITCH WORM" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

049

SOUR BELT SKATE CREW

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. Two flat sugar-coated candy belts roll into skateboard ramps while a gummy bear performs one gentle jump. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: retro 60s. Use clean period-inspired outlines, warm flat-color fills, restrained print-grain texture and expressive original mascot gestures; preserve broad highlights. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Retro Trick Or Treat: burnt orange #BA6436, avocado #818550, mustard #B69B42, chocolate #5C3D2C, ivory #F0E5D1. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "SOUR BELT SKATE CREW" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

050

GUMMY FROG CAULDRON

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A translucent gummy frog perches on a small cauldron with visible white candy belly and a tiny sugar fly nearby. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: glossy puffy 3D. Use rounded inflated volumes, smooth resin surfaces, broad polished highlights and soft contact shadows; keep separate objects clearly distinguishable. Build one compact self-contained vignette with a strong irregular outer silhouette; use supporting details to frame the interaction rather than fill the surrounding canvas. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Witching Hour: plum #654866, sage #899575, ivory #EFE3CD, rust #AD6747, charcoal #332F38. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

ART-ONLY RULE: No words, letters, numbers, labels or pseudo-text anywhere in the artwork. Let the character interaction carry the entire concept. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

051

GUMMY SHARK NIGHT SWIM

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A two-tone gummy shark swims inside a self-contained clear candy bubble with candy corn coral and a spoon anchor. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: mid-century illustration. Use clean period-inspired outlines, warm flat-color fills, restrained print-grain texture and expressive original mascot gestures; preserve broad highlights. Use a balanced central arrangement with broad simple shapes, asymmetrical supporting accents and generous breathing room around the main gesture. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Caramel Crypt: caramel #B88755, chocolate #5C3E30, cream #F1DFC5, olive #87845B, terracotta #B9785C. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "GUMMY SHARK NIGHT SWIM" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

052

WORM BOOK CLUB

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. Two gummy worms curl around three unlettered spooky books while a gummy ring serves as their reading lamp. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: dark academia. Use antique-style ink contours, warm paper-like highlights inside the artwork and thoughtful botanical accents without an actual paper backdrop. Arrange the character group in a compact shallow arc, varying poses and heights while retaining one unified merchandise silhouette and a separate wording zone. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Classic Candy Night: pumpkin #C77838, mustard #D0AF59, ivory #F2E5CE, cocoa #58382D, charcoal #343037. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "WORM BOOK CLUB" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

053

SUGAR CRYSTAL SORCERER

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A sour gummy wizard lifts three large sugar crystals above a pumpkin bucket using a twisted candy-belt wand. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: tattoo flash. Use clean period-inspired outlines, warm flat-color fills, restrained print-grain texture and expressive original mascot gestures; preserve broad highlights. Arrange the character group in a compact shallow arc, varying poses and heights while retaining one unified merchandise silhouette and a separate wording zone. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Witching Hour: plum #654866, sage #899575, ivory #EFE3CD, rust #AD6747, charcoal #332F38. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "SUGAR CRYSTAL SORCERER" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

054

SOUR STRIPS SECURITY

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A flat sour-strip guard stretches across a pumpkin bucket as a soft barricade while a gummy bear waits politely. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: retro collegiate. Use rounded vintage collegiate lettering, sturdy mascot drawing and a compact crest arrangement with generous open counters. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Retro Trick Or Treat: burnt orange #BA6436, avocado #818550, mustard #B69B42, chocolate #5C3D2C, ivory #F0E5D1. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold collegiate block lettering. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "SOUR STRIPS SECURITY" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

055

GUMMY EYEBALL OPTOMETRIST

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A round gummy eyeball in spectacles examines another eyeball using a lollipop lens, with both irises facing outward. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: retro comic cover. Create a lively self-contained comic vignette with dramatic diagonals, expressive ink drawing and localized halftone bursts; no rectangular cover frame. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Classic Candy Night: pumpkin #C77838, mustard #D0AF59, ivory #F2E5CE, cocoa #58382D, charcoal #343037. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "GUMMY EYEBALL OPTOMETRIST" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

056

BONE TO BE GUMMY

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. Two pale gummy bone characters dance with a smiling skeleton who carries an open pouch with no printing. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: vintage mascot. Use clean period-inspired outlines, warm flat-color fills, restrained print-grain texture and expressive original mascot gestures; preserve broad highlights. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Retro Trick Or Treat: burnt orange #BA6436, avocado #818550, mustard #B69B42, chocolate #5C3D2C, ivory #F0E5D1. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "BONE TO BE GUMMY" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

057

GUMMY SPIDER KNITTING CLUB

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A gummy spider uses its eight short legs to knit a scarf from one broad sour belt, with a neat central yarn curl. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: embroidery-inspired art. Use chunky thread direction, satin-stitch fills and visible stitched contours; keep thread details subordinate to the large readable shapes. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Caramel Crypt: caramel #B88755, chocolate #5C3E30, cream #F1DFC5, olive #87845B, terracotta #B9785C. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "GUMMY SPIDER KNITTING CLUB" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

058

GUMMY RING LIFEGUARD

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A friendly ghost rescues a gummy bear floating in a small candy cauldron using a peach-ring life preserver. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: comic-book art. Use dynamic ink contours, selective halftone shadows and two or three strong motion accents that reinforce the action. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Classic Candy Night: pumpkin #C77838, mustard #D0AF59, ivory #F2E5CE, cocoa #58382D, charcoal #343037. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "GUMMY RING LIFEGUARD" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

059

JELLY BEAN BATS

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. Five bean-shaped jelly candies with tiny original bat wings form a shallow arc above one orange bucket. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: hand-drawn illustration. Use clean period-inspired outlines, warm flat-color fills, restrained print-grain texture and expressive original mascot gestures; preserve broad highlights. Build one compact self-contained vignette with a strong irregular outer silhouette; use supporting details to frame the interaction rather than fill the surrounding canvas. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Witching Hour: plum #654866, sage #899575, ivory #EFE3CD, rust #AD6747, charcoal #332F38. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

ART-ONLY RULE: No words, letters, numbers, labels or pseudo-text anywhere in the artwork. Let the character interaction carry the entire concept. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

060

SOUR SNAKE SNOOZE

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A long sugar-coated gummy snake sleeps in a loose spiral on a folded unlettered wrapper with a little witch hat. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: heirloom appliqué. Render softly padded fabric forms with felt edges, generous blanket stitching and restrained cotton patterns; all stitching is printed illustration. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Caramel Crypt: caramel #B88755, chocolate #5C3E30, cream #F1DFC5, olive #87845B, terracotta #B9785C. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "SOUR SNAKE SNOOZE" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

061

GUMMY DRAGON DELIVERY

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A tiny original dragon carries a clear bowl of gummy bears; its soft wings resemble translucent candy fins. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: whimsical storybook. Use warm hand-painted shading, gently irregular contours and expressive poses, with simplified props and a readable central vignette. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Classic Candy Night: pumpkin #C77838, mustard #D0AF59, ivory #F2E5CE, cocoa #58382D, charcoal #343037. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "GUMMY DRAGON DELIVERY" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

062

SOUR CANDY SNOWPLOW

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A gummy bear drives a spoon snowplow through a small mound of coarse sugar while two gummy worms watch. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: linocut. Use crisp carved contours, broad flat ink areas and sparse texture inside shapes; retain deliberate negative-space channels. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Witching Hour: plum #654866, sage #899575, ivory #EFE3CD, rust #AD6747, charcoal #332F38. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "SOUR CANDY SNOWPLOW" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

04

LOLLIPOPS & HARD CANDY

20 ORIGINAL CONCEPTS / 063-082

Spiral pops, hard-candy discs, crystal sweets and striped sticks.

HOW TO USE

Copy one complete prompt into your image generator. Keep its exact text rule, generic-candy details and isolation requirements. Review the generated lettering and details before production.

063

LOLLIPOP LANTERN WALK

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A little ghost carries a spiral lollipop like a lantern while two round hard candies form a tiny stepping path. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: whimsical storybook. Use warm hand-painted shading, gently irregular contours and expressive poses, with simplified props and a readable central vignette. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Classic Candy Night: pumpkin #C77838, mustard #D0AF59, ivory #F2E5CE, cocoa #58382D, charcoal #343037. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "LOLLIPOP LANTERN WALK" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

064

SWIRL WITH IT

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A round spiral lollipop dancer twirls a licorice scarf with the stick forming one sturdy leg and a candy corn partner nearby. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: groovy 70s. Use flowing rounded forms, sweeping organic contours, offset muted-color shadows and an upbeat vintage rhythm. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Retro Trick Or Treat: burnt orange #BA6436, avocado #818550, mustard #B69B42, chocolate #5C3D2C, ivory #F0E5D1. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in heavy rounded display lettering. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details.

TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "SWIRL WITH IT" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering.

Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

065

POP STAR PHANTOM

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A lollipop ghost singer uses a miniature candy stick microphone while two hard-candy bats act as backup dancers. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: retro 60s. Use clean period-inspired outlines, warm flat-color fills, restrained print-grain texture and expressive original mascot gestures; preserve broad highlights. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Retro Trick Or Treat: burnt orange #BA6436, avocado #818550, mustard #B69B42, chocolate #5C3D2C, ivory #F0E5D1. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "POP STAR PHANTOM" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

066

HARD CANDY SOFT HEART

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A smooth oval hard candy knight protects a tiny marshmallow ghost using a round candy-disc shield. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: tattoo flash. Use clean period-inspired outlines, warm flat-color fills, restrained print-grain texture and expressive original mascot gestures; preserve broad highlights. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Classic Candy Night: pumpkin #C77838, mustard #D0AF59, ivory #F2E5CE, cocoa #58382D, charcoal #343037. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "HARD CANDY SOFT HEART" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

067

BUTTERSCOTCH BOO CREW

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. Three golden butterscotch discs in tiny ghost hoods roll an orange bucket across one broad leaf. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: vintage mascot. Use clean period-inspired outlines, warm flat-color fills, restrained print-grain texture and expressive original mascot gestures; preserve broad highlights. Arrange the character group in a compact shallow arc, varying poses and heights while retaining one unified merchandise silhouette and a separate wording zone. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Retro Trick Or Treat: burnt orange #BA6436, avocado #818550, mustard #B69B42, chocolate #5C3D2C, ivory #F0E5D1. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "BUTTERSCOTCH BOO CREW" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

068

PEPPERMINT POLTERGEIST

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A striped peppermint disc floats above a witch hat with a bemused face and two simple sugar stars. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: minimal modern. Reduce objects to precise geometric silhouettes with a small number of rounded expressive details and generous internal breathing room. Use a balanced central arrangement with broad simple shapes, asymmetrical supporting accents and generous breathing room around the main gesture. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Caramel Crypt: caramel #B88755, chocolate #5C3E30, cream #F1DFC5, olive #87845B, terracotta #B9785C. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "PEPPERMINT POLTERGEIST" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

069

ROOT BEER BARREL BANDIT

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A barrel-shaped brown hard candy cowboy rides a licorice rope pony with a plain folded-wrapper saddle. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: rustic western. Use weathered ink fills, sturdy rounded contours and warm ranch-kitchen textures confined to the subject, with original generic western accessories. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Haunted Frontier: terracotta #B77458, tan #C6A27C, turquoise #608F91, chocolate #543A2D, antique gold #AF924E. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "ROOT BEER BARREL BANDIT" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

070

LEMON DROP NIGHT WATCH

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A sugar-dusted lemon drop detective examines a missing bucket handle through a lollipop magnifying lens. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: vintage engraving. Use controlled crosshatching and curved engraved contours, concentrating shadow under overlaps and preserving large open highlights. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Witching Hour: plum #654866, sage #899575, ivory #EFE3CD, rust #AD6747, charcoal #332F38. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "LEMON DROP NIGHT WATCH" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

071

LOLLIPOP BROOM PARKING

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A witch carefully parks three round lollipop brooms in a pumpkin bucket, with each spiral disc fully visible. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: hand-lettered sign. Use substantial custom hand lettering integrated with the illustration, restrained flourishes and balanced readable spacing; no physical sign rectangle. Arrange the character group in a compact shallow arc, varying poses and heights while retaining one unified merchandise silhouette and a separate wording zone. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Caramel Crypt: caramel #B88755, chocolate #5C3E30, cream #F1DFC5, olive #87845B, terracotta #B9785C. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "LOLLIPOP BROOM PARKING" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

072

CANDY CRYSTAL CASTLE

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A friendly ghost lives in a small rock-candy castle with broad angular sugar-crystal towers and a lollipop gate. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: glossy puffy 3D. Use rounded inflated volumes, smooth resin surfaces, broad polished highlights and soft contact shadows; keep separate objects clearly distinguishable. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Classic Candy Night: pumpkin #C77838, mustard #D0AF59, ivory #F2E5CE, cocoa #58382D, charcoal #343037. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "CANDY CRYSTAL CASTLE" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

073

WRAPPED SWEET OWLS

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. Three twist-wrapped oval hard candies become owls, using blank wrapper ends as wings and keeping the candy centers exposed. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: folk art. Use decorative symmetry where suitable, broad painted shapes, simple warm patterns and deliberately handmade contour variation. Build one compact self-contained vignette with a strong irregular outer silhouette; use supporting details to frame the interaction rather than fill the surrounding canvas. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Witching Hour: plum #654866, sage #899575, ivory #EFE3CD, rust #AD6747, charcoal #332F38. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

ART-ONLY RULE: No words, letters, numbers, labels or pseudo-text anywhere in the artwork. Let the character interaction carry the entire concept. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

074

SPOOKY SWIRL SOCIETY

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. Three different spiral lollipops in tiny capes meet around a peppermint disc table beneath one small bat. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: vintage advertising. Use clean period-inspired outlines, warm flat-color fills, restrained print-grain texture and expressive original mascot gestures; preserve broad highlights. Arrange the character group in a compact shallow arc, varying poses and heights while retaining one unified merchandise silhouette and a separate wording zone. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Retro Trick Or Treat: burnt orange #BA6436, avocado #818550, mustard #B69B42, chocolate #5C3D2C, ivory #F0E5D1. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "SPOOKY SWIRL SOCIETY" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

075

CANDY DROP DRIZZLE

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A tiny gummy frog shelters under a round lollipop umbrella while three translucent fruit drops hover overhead. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: cute sticker art. Use a unified bold outer contour, simple cel shading and friendly expressions; any sticker-style rim must follow the artwork silhouette. Arrange the character group in a compact shallow arc, varying poses and heights while retaining one unified merchandise silhouette and a separate wording zone. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Classic Candy Night: pumpkin #C77838, mustard #D0AF59, ivory #F2E5CE, cocoa #58382D, charcoal #343037. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in heavy rounded display lettering. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "CANDY DROP DRIZZLE" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

076

LOLLIPOP ASTRONAUT

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A round lollipop astronaut plants its stick on a chocolate moon with a clear candy helmet around the swirl. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: comic-book art. Use dynamic ink contours, selective halftone shadows and two or three strong motion accents that reinforce the action. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Witching Hour: plum #654866, sage #899575, ivory #EFE3CD, rust #AD6747, charcoal #332F38. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "LOLLIPOP ASTRONAUT" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

077

BUTTERSCOTCH BOOKWORM

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A golden candy disc librarian balances three plain miniature books while a gummy worm offers a leaf bookmark. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: dark academia. Use antique-style ink contours, warm paper-like highlights inside the artwork and thoughtful botanical accents without an actual paper backdrop. Arrange the character group in a compact shallow arc, varying poses and heights while retaining one unified merchandise silhouette and a separate wording zone. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Caramel Crypt: caramel #B88755, chocolate #5C3E30, cream #F1DFC5, olive #87845B, terracotta #B9785C. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "BUTTERSCOTCH BOOKWORM" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

078

HARD CANDY HIDEOUT

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. Two wrapped sweets build a tent using their plain wrapper ends, sheltering a sleepy ghost beneath the exposed candy centers. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: cottagecore. Use delicate but printable botanical contours, soft gouache fills and homely kitchen details without surrounding scenery. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Classic Candy Night: pumpkin #C77838, mustard #D0AF59, ivory #F2E5CE, cocoa #58382D, charcoal #343037. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "HARD CANDY HIDEOUT" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

079

POP GOES THE PUMPKIN

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A smiling pumpkin bucket opens to reveal one oversized spiral lollipop rising on a spring of broad licorice. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: retro comic cover. Create a lively self-contained comic vignette with dramatic diagonals, expressive ink drawing and localized halftone bursts; no rectangular cover frame. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Witching Hour: plum #654866, sage #899575, ivory #EFE3CD, rust #AD6747, charcoal #332F38. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "POP GOES THE PUMPKIN" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

080

CANDY CANE COUNTESS

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A striped candy cane in a velvet-style vampire collar leans elegantly beside a tiny coffin-shaped unlettered candy tin. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: gothic tattoo flash. Use strong ink contours, decorative pointed leaf framing and restrained crosshatching; keep the creature friendly and the mood playfully autumnal. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Caramel Crypt: caramel #B88755, chocolate #5C3E30, cream #F1DFC5, olive #87845B, terracotta #B9785C. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "CANDY CANE COUNTESS" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

081

LOLLIPOP WEB GARDEN

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. One chunky licorice web supports three round lollipops like flowers while a tiny original spider tends their stick stems. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: linocut. Use crisp carved contours, broad flat ink areas and sparse texture inside shapes; retain deliberate negative-space channels. Build one compact self-contained vignette with a strong irregular outer silhouette; use supporting details to frame the interaction rather than fill the surrounding canvas. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Classic Candy Night: pumpkin #C77838, mustard #D0AF59, ivory #F2E5CE, cocoa #58382D, charcoal #343037. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

ART-ONLY RULE: No words, letters, numbers, labels or pseudo-text anywhere in the artwork. Let the character interaction carry the entire concept. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

082

ROCK CANDY ROYALTY

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A broad-crystal rock-candy stick monarch wears a soft cape and sits on a small marshmallow throne. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: clay-like 3D. Use hand-shaped clay volume, softly rounded edges, subtle finger-smoothed texture and diffuse studio lighting without a floor or cast backdrop. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Witching Hour: plum #654866, sage #899575, ivory #EFE3CD, rust #AD6747, charcoal #332F38. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in heavy rounded display lettering. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "ROCK CANDY ROYALTY" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

05

CARAMEL LICORICE & CLASSIC TREATS

26 ORIGINAL CONCEPTS / 083-108

Caramels, licorice, taffy, brittle and other recognizable classic treats.

HOW TO USE

Copy one complete prompt into your image generator. Keep its exact text rule, generic-candy details and isolation requirements. Review the generated lettering and details before production.

083

CARMEL APPLE MUMMY

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A shiny caramel-coated apple wears loose sugar-ribbon bandages, leaving the apple shape and vertical wooden stick unmistakable. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: glossy puffy 3D. Use rounded inflated volumes, smooth resin surfaces, broad polished highlights and soft contact shadows; keep separate objects clearly distinguishable. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Classic Candy Night: pumpkin #C77838, mustard #D0AF59, ivory #F2E5CE, cocoa #58382D, charcoal #343037. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "CARMEL APPLE MUMMY" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

084

TAFFY TUG OF BOO

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. Two tiny ghosts pull opposite ends of one soft taffy rope above its open plain twist wrapper. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: cartoon mascot. Use clean period-inspired outlines, warm flat-color fills, restrained print-grain texture and expressive original mascot gestures; preserve broad highlights. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Witching Hour: plum #654866, sage #899575, ivory #EFE3CD, rust #AD6747, charcoal #332F38. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "TAFFY TUG OF BOO" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

085

LICORICE LASSO LEGEND

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A black cat cowboy lassos a floating marshmallow ghost with a long twisted red licorice rope. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: western. Use sturdy hand-inked forms, leather-like warm shading, rope curves and a restrained western lettering treatment without tiny decorative spurs. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Haunted Frontier: terracotta #B77458, tan #C6A27C, turquoise #608F91, chocolate #543A2D, antique gold #AF924E. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "LICORICE LASSO LEGEND" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

086

PEANUT BRITTLE BAT

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A crunchy peanut-brittle shard wears broad bat wings, with distinct peanut pieces visible inside the amber sugar. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: woodcut. Use bold carved shapes, purposeful gouge marks and high-contrast solid areas; avoid fragile hairlines and excessive tiny hatching. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Classic Candy Night: pumpkin #C77838, mustard #D0AF59, ivory #F2E5CE, cocoa #58382D, charcoal #343037. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "PEANUT BRITTLE BAT" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

087

SALT WATER SCARES

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A saltwater-taffy sailor ghost balances on a tiny foil boat with three unlettered twist-wrapped taffies as passengers. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: mid-century illustration. Use clean period-inspired outlines, warm flat-color fills, restrained print-grain texture and expressive original mascot gestures; preserve broad highlights. Arrange the character group in a compact shallow arc, varying poses and heights while retaining one unified merchandise silhouette and a separate wording zone. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Witching Hour: plum #654866, sage #899575, ivory #EFE3CD, rust #AD6747, charcoal #332F38. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "SALT WATER SCARES" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

088

TOFFEE TOWER TROUBLE

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A nervous toffee square architect braces a leaning stack of four amber toffee blocks using a licorice support. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: retro comic cover. Create a lively self-contained comic vignette with dramatic diagonals, expressive ink drawing and localized halftone bursts; no rectangular cover frame. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Caramel Crypt: caramel #B88755, chocolate #5C3E30, cream #F1DFC5, olive #87845B, terracotta #B9785C. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "TOFFEE TOWER TROUBLE" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

089

JELLY BEAN JURY

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. Five glossy oval jelly beans wear little pointed hats and listen to a gummy worm witness on a marshmallow podium. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: vintage mascot. Use clean period-inspired outlines, warm flat-color fills, restrained print-grain texture and expressive original mascot gestures; preserve broad highlights. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Retro Trick Or Treat: burnt orange #BA6436, avocado #818550, mustard #B69B42, chocolate #5C3D2C, ivory #F0E5D1. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "JELLY BEAN JURY" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

090

CANDY BUTTON NIGHT SHIFT

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A plain paper strip of colored sugar dots becomes a sleepy little conveyor belt operated by a friendly pumpkin mechanic. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: vintage advertising. Use clean period-inspired outlines, warm flat-color fills, restrained print-grain texture and expressive original mascot gestures; preserve broad highlights. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Retro Trick Or Treat: burnt orange #BA6436, avocado #818550, mustard #B69B42, chocolate #5C3D2C, ivory #F0E5D1. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "CANDY BUTTON NIGHT SHIFT" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

091

LICORICE KNOT GHOST

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A twisted licorice rope ties itself into a ghost-shaped outline with one dangling curly tail and two plain candy eyes. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: minimal modern. Reduce objects to precise geometric silhouettes with a small number of rounded expressive details and generous internal breathing room. Use a balanced central arrangement with broad simple shapes, asymmetrical supporting accents and generous breathing room around the main gesture. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Caramel Crypt: caramel #B88755, chocolate #5C3E30, cream #F1DFC5, olive #87845B, terracotta #B9785C. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "LICORICE KNOT GHOST" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

092

CARMEL CUBE CUDDLES

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. Two soft caramel cubes share a knitted ghost-shaped blanket with one blank wrapper folded beside them. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: heirloom appliqué. Render softly padded fabric forms with felt edges, generous blanket stitching and restrained cotton patterns; all stitching is printed illustration. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Classic Candy Night: pumpkin #C77838, mustard #D0AF59, ivory #F2E5CE, cocoa #58382D, charcoal #343037. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "CARMEL CUBE CUDDLES" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

093

SUGAR STICK SORCERY

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A striped hard-candy stick wizard uses its own long shape as a wand while a gumdrop apprentice holds its pointed hat. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: folk art. Use decorative symmetry where suitable, broad painted shapes, simple warm patterns and deliberately handmade contour variation. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Witching Hour: plum #654866, sage #899575, ivory #EFE3CD, rust #AD6747, charcoal #332F38. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "SUGAR STICK SORCERY" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

094

GUMDROP GRAVE GARDEN

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. Dome-shaped sugar-dusted gumdrops grow from a tiny chocolate patch, with a friendly gummy worm weaving between them. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: clay-like 3D. Use hand-shaped clay volume, softly rounded edges, subtle finger-smoothed texture and diffuse studio lighting without a floor or cast backdrop. Build one compact self-contained vignette with a strong irregular outer silhouette; use supporting details to frame the interaction rather than fill the surrounding canvas. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Caramel Crypt: caramel #B88755, chocolate #5C3E30, cream #F1DFC5, olive #87845B, terracotta #B9785C. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

ART-ONLY RULE: No words, letters, numbers, labels or pseudo-text anywhere in the artwork. Let the character interaction carry the entire concept. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

095

MARSHMALLOW PEEKABOO

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. Two ordinary unbranded ghost-shaped marshmallows peek shyly from behind a pumpkin bucket, with coarse sugar texture and no molded branding. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: cute sticker art. Use a unified bold outer contour, simple cel shading and friendly expressions; any sticker-style rim must follow the artwork silhouette. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Classic Candy Night: pumpkin #C77838, mustard #D0AF59, ivory #F2E5CE, cocoa #58382D, charcoal #343037. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in heavy rounded display lettering. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "MARSHMALLOW PEEKABOO" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

096

CANDY NECKLACE NECROMANCER

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A friendly skeleton magician arranges round pastel candy beads into a floating necklace hoop using a sugar-stick baton. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: tattoo flash. Use clean period-inspired outlines, warm flat-color fills, restrained print-grain texture and expressive original mascot gestures; preserve broad highlights. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Witching Hour: plum #654866, sage #899575, ivory #EFE3CD, rust #AD6747, charcoal #332F38. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "CANDY NECKLACE NECROMANCER" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

097

COTTON CANDY CLOUD GHOST

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A fluffy cotton-candy ghost drifts around a plain paper cone while a tiny bat catches one large sugar puff. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: whimsical storybook. Use warm hand-painted shading, gently irregular contours and expressive poses, with simplified props and a readable central vignette. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Caramel Crypt: caramel #B88755, chocolate #5C3E30, cream #F1DFC5, olive #87845B, terracotta #B9785C. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "COTTON CANDY CLOUD GHOST" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

098

CARMEL POPCORN CAPTAIN

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A caramel-popcorn ball pirate holds a licorice hook and rides an orange bucket with a plain foil sail. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: retro comic cover. Create a lively self-contained comic vignette with dramatic diagonals, expressive ink drawing and localized halftone bursts; no rectangular cover frame. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Classic Candy Night: pumpkin #C77838, mustard #D0AF59, ivory #F2E5CE, cocoa #58382D, charcoal #343037. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "CARMEL POPCORN CAPTAIN" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

099

SESAME SNAP SPECTER

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A thin golden sesame brittle rectangle wears a little ghost cape, with sesame seeds rendered as broad visible marks. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: old grocery-ad illustration. Use clean period-inspired outlines, warm flat-color fills, restrained print-grain texture and expressive original mascot gestures; preserve broad highlights. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Witching Hour: plum #654866, sage #899575, ivory #EFE3CD, rust #AD6747, charcoal #332F38. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "SESAME SNAP SPECTER" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

100

RAISIN THE DEAD

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A tiny skeleton offers a bowl of chocolate-coated raisins to an amused ghost while one raisin wears a miniature cape. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: distressed screen print. Use four or five separable ink-like color areas and light wear inside large fills; distress must never erode important lettering. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Caramel Crypt: caramel #B88755, chocolate #5C3E30, cream #F1DFC5, olive #87845B, terracotta #B9785C. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "RAISIN THE DEAD" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

101

NOUGAT NIGHT GUARD

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A soft nougat rectangle with visible nut pieces guards a plain candy chest, holding a wafer shield and a licorice baton. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: vintage engraving. Use controlled crosshatching and curved engraved contours, concentrating shadow under overlaps and preserving large open highlights. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Classic Candy Night: pumpkin #C77838, mustard #D0AF59, ivory #F2E5CE, cocoa #58382D, charcoal #343037. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "NOUGAT NIGHT GUARD" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

102

MALTED MILK MOONWALK

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. Three round chocolate-coated malt balls moonwalk across a broad wrapper crescent, with one cutaway revealing a pale porous center. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: retro 60s. Use clean period-inspired outlines, warm flat-color fills, restrained print-grain texture and expressive original mascot gestures; preserve broad highlights. Arrange the character group in a compact shallow arc, varying poses and heights while retaining one unified merchandise silhouette and a separate wording zone. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Retro Trick Or Treat: burnt orange #BA6436, avocado #818550, mustard #B69B42, chocolate #5C3D2C, ivory #F0E5D1. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "MALTED MILK MOONWALK" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

103

CANDY CORN'S COUSIN

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A chunky orange-and-green mellowcreme pumpkin proudly shows its ridged sides while three candy corns admire its roundness. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: doodle. Use playful confident hand-drawn lines, small gesture marks and sparse shading; avoid a surrounding scatter of unrelated icons. Arrange the character group in a compact shallow arc, varying poses and heights while retaining one unified merchandise silhouette and a separate wording zone. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Caramel Crypt: caramel #B88755, chocolate #5C3E30, cream #F1DFC5, olive #87845B, terracotta #B9785C. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "CANDY CORN'S COUSIN" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

104

LICORICE CAT NAP

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A small original black cat curls inside a loose nest of red licorice ropes beside a single orange gumdrop. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: embroidery-inspired art. Use chunky thread direction, satin-stitch fills and visible stitched contours; keep thread details subordinate to the large readable shapes. Build one compact self-contained vignette with a strong irregular outer silhouette; use supporting details to frame the interaction rather than fill the surrounding canvas. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Classic Candy Night: pumpkin #C77838, mustard #D0AF59, ivory #F2E5CE, cocoa #58382D, charcoal #343037. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

ART-ONLY RULE: No words, letters, numbers, labels or pseudo-text anywhere in the artwork. Let the character interaction carry the entire concept. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

105

SWEET LITTLE FRUIT SLICE

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A sugar-dusted jelly orange slice in a witch hat carries a tiny broom, keeping its curved rind band and wedge form visible. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: kawaii. Use compact rounded proportions, small widely spaced eyes, soft blush cheeks and tidy bold outlines; exaggerate the gesture rather than adding clutter. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Witching Hour: plum #654866, sage #899575, ivory #EFE3CD, rust #AD6747, charcoal #332F38. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in heavy rounded display lettering. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "SWEET LITTLE FRUIT SLICE" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

106

MAPLE CANDY MOONLIGHT

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A leaf-shaped maple sugar candy ghost holds a tiny lantern, with its molded leaf veins broad and its tan silhouette clear. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: cottagecore. Use delicate but printable botanical contours, soft gouache fills and homely kitchen details without surrounding scenery. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Caramel Crypt: caramel #B88755, chocolate #5C3E30, cream #F1DFC5, olive #87845B, terracotta #B9785C. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "MAPLE CANDY MOONLIGHT" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

107

CANDIED NUT CAULDRON

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A smiling witch stirs glazed pecans and almonds in a small open cauldron while one nut mascot watches from its rim. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: hand-drawn illustration. Use clean period-inspired outlines, warm flat-color fills, restrained print-grain texture and expressive original mascot gestures; preserve broad highlights. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Classic Candy Night: pumpkin #C77838, mustard #D0AF59, ivory #F2E5CE, cocoa #58382D, charcoal #343037. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "CANDIED NUT CAULDRON" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

108

TOFFEE APPLE TIGHTROPE

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A glossy hard-toffee apple balances on a licorice tightrope while a ghost grips its wooden stick as a safety pole. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: retro comic cover. Create a lively self-contained comic vignette with dramatic diagonals, expressive ink drawing and localized halftone bursts; no rectangular cover frame. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Witching Hour: plum #654866, sage #899575, ivory #EFE3CD, rust #AD6747, charcoal #332F38. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "TOFFEE APPLE TIGHTROPE" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

06

GHOSTS & SWEET-TOOTH SKELETONS

24 ORIGINAL CONCEPTS / 109-132

Friendly ghosts and skeletons with an unmistakable sweet tooth.

HOW TO USE

Copy one complete prompt into your image generator. Keep its exact text rule, generic-candy details and isolation requirements. Review the generated lettering and details before production.

109

BOO BUCKET BOUNCER

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A big soft ghost politely guards a pumpkin bucket with a licorice rope barrier while a tiny candy corn asks to enter. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: cartoon mascot. Use clean period-inspired outlines, warm flat-color fills, restrained print-grain texture and expressive original mascot gestures; preserve broad highlights. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Classic Candy Night: pumpkin #C77838, mustard #D0AF59, ivory #F2E5CE, cocoa #58382D, charcoal #343037. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "BOO BUCKET BOUNCER" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

110

BONES ABOUT CHOCOLATECONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A smiling skeleton uses its rib cage as a tidy shelf for three plain chocolate squares, with one gummy worm peeking out. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: retro comic cover. Create a lively self-contained comic vignette with dramatic diagonals, expressive ink drawing and localized halftone bursts; no rectangular cover frame. Arrange the character group in a compact shallow arc, varying poses and heights while retaining one unified merchandise silhouette and a separate wording zone. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Witching Hour: plum #654866, sage #899575, ivory #EFE3CD, rust #AD6747, charcoal #332F38. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "BONES ABOUT CHOCOLATE" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

111

GHOST WITH THE MOST TREATS

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A proud ghost balances a lollipop, gummy ring and peanut-butter cup on three floating little trays. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: groovy 70s. Use flowing rounded forms, sweeping organic contours, offset muted-color shadows and an upbeat vintage rhythm. Arrange the character group in a compact shallow arc, varying poses and heights while retaining one unified merchandise silhouette and a separate wording zone. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Retro Trick Or Treat: burnt orange #BA6436, avocado #818550, mustard #B69B42, chocolate #5C3D2C, ivory #F0E5D1. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in heavy rounded display lettering. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details.

TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "GHOST WITH THE MOST TREATS" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

112

SKELETON SORTING SHIFT

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A skeleton librarian sorts recognizable candy shapes into three small unlettered jars using oversized candy tongs. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: dark academia. Use antique-style ink contours, warm paper-like highlights inside the artwork and thoughtful botanical accents without an actual paper backdrop. Arrange the character group in a compact shallow arc, varying poses and heights while retaining one unified merchandise silhouette and a separate wording zone. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Classic Candy Night: pumpkin #C77838, mustard #D0AF59, ivory #F2E5CE, cocoa #58382D, charcoal #343037. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "SKELETON SORTING SHIFT" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

113

BOO AND CHEW

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A ghost tries to chew a long taffy ribbon that stretches comically to a tiny open wrapper. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: cute sticker art. Use a unified bold outer contour, simple cel shading and friendly expressions; any sticker-style rim must follow the artwork silhouette. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Witching Hour: plum #654866, sage #899575, ivory #EFE3CD, rust #AD6747, charcoal #332F38. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in heavy rounded display lettering. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details.

TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "BOO AND CHEW" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering.

Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

114

SWEET BONES BAKERY

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A skeleton chef arranges ghost marshmallows on a plain tray with one licorice whisk tucked under its arm. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: vintage diner. Use clean period-inspired outlines, warm flat-color fills, restrained print-grain texture and expressive original mascot gestures; preserve broad highlights. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Retro Trick Or Treat: burnt orange #BA6436, avocado #818550, mustard #B69B42, chocolate #5C3D2C, ivory #F0E5D1. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "SWEET BONES BAKERY" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

115

GHOST GUMMY GONDOLA

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A ghost steers a pumpkin bucket boat with a lollipop oar while a gummy worm floats beside it wearing a candy-ring vest. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: whimsical storybook. Use warm hand-painted shading, gently irregular contours and expressive poses, with simplified props and a readable central vignette. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Classic Candy Night: pumpkin #C77838, mustard #D0AF59, ivory #F2E5CE, cocoa #58382D, charcoal #343037. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "GHOST GUMMY GONDOLA" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

116

RATTLE AND ROLL

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A skeleton skateboarder rides a flat chocolate bar board with gumdrop wheels and a tiny pumpkin helmet. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: retro 60s. Use clean period-inspired outlines, warm flat-color fills, restrained print-grain texture and expressive original mascot gestures; preserve broad highlights. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Retro Trick Or Treat: burnt orange #BA6436, avocado #818550, mustard #B69B42, chocolate #5C3D2C, ivory #F0E5D1. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "RATTLE AND ROLL" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

117

PHANTOM PEANUT BUTTER FAN

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A little ghost hugs an oversized fluted peanut-butter cup whose clean cutaway shows creamy tan filling. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: kawaii. Use compact rounded proportions, small widely spaced eyes, soft blush cheeks and tidy bold outlines; exaggerate the gesture rather than adding clutter. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Caramel Crypt: caramel #B88755, chocolate #5C3E30, cream #F1DFC5, olive #87845B, terracotta #B9785C. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in heavy rounded display lettering. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "PHANTOM PEANUT BUTTER FAN" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

118

BONE CHILL SWEET THRILL

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A relaxed skeleton reclines in a candy-wrapper hammock with a lollipop umbrella and a gummy-ring pillow. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: mid-century illustration. Use clean period-inspired outlines, warm flat-color fills, restrained print-grain texture and expressive original mascot gestures; preserve broad highlights. Use a balanced central arrangement with broad simple shapes, asymmetrical supporting accents and generous breathing room around the main gesture. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Classic Candy Night: pumpkin #C77838, mustard #D0AF59, ivory #F2E5CE, cocoa #58382D, charcoal #343037. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "BONE CHILL SWEET THRILL" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

119

GHOST CANDY MOBILE

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. Three soft ghosts float around a tiny hanging hoop made of licorice, supporting candy corn and plain peppermint discs. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: heirloom appliqué. Render softly padded fabric forms with felt edges, generous blanket stitching and restrained cotton patterns; all stitching is printed illustration. Build one compact self-contained vignette with a strong irregular outer silhouette; use supporting details to frame the interaction rather than fill the surrounding canvas. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Witching Hour: plum #654866, sage #899575, ivory #EFE3CD, rust #AD6747, charcoal #332F38. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

ART-ONLY RULE: No words, letters, numbers, labels or pseudo-text anywhere in the artwork. Let the character interaction carry the entire concept. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

120

SKELETON SNACK SCIENTIST

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A skeleton scientist peers through a spoon microscope at a sour gummy crystal sample on a chocolate square. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: comic-book art. Use dynamic ink contours, selective halftone shadows and two or three strong motion accents that reinforce the action. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Caramel Crypt: caramel #B88755, chocolate #5C3E30, cream #F1DFC5, olive #87845B, terracotta #B9785C. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "SKELETON SNACK SCIENTIST" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

121

BOO'S CANDY REPAIR

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A ghost tailor stitches a torn blank candy sack using a blunt licorice needle while a wrapped caramel watches. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: embroidery-inspired art. Use chunky thread direction, satin-stitch fills and visible stitched contours; keep thread details subordinate to the large readable shapes. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Classic Candy Night: pumpkin #C77838, mustard #D0AF59, ivory #F2E5CE, cocoa #58382D, charcoal #343037. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "BOO'S CANDY REPAIR" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

122

SWEET TOOTH DETECTIVE

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A skeleton detective investigates a bite missing from a plain chocolate bar using a lollipop magnifier. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: vintage engraving. Use controlled crosshatching and curved engraved contours, concentrating shadow under overlaps and preserving large open highlights. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Witching Hour: plum #654866, sage #899575, ivory #EFE3CD, rust #AD6747, charcoal #332F38. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "SWEET TOOTH DETECTIVE" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

123

GHOST ON A SUGAR MISSION

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A determined ghost hikes over two marshmallow hills with a candy-corn compass and a tiny pumpkin bucket backpack. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: linocut. Use crisp carved contours, broad flat ink areas and sparse texture inside shapes; retain deliberate negative-space channels. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Caramel Crypt: caramel #B88755, chocolate #5C3E30, cream #F1DFC5, olive #87845B, terracotta #B9785C. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "GHOST ON A SUGAR MISSION" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

124

BONES IN THE BUCKETCONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A playful skeleton peeks from a pumpkin bucket filled with generic chocolate squares and one curled gummy worm. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: vintage mascot. Use clean period-inspired outlines, warm flat-color fills, restrained print-grain texture and expressive original mascot gestures; preserve broad highlights. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Retro Trick Or Treat: burnt orange #BA6436, avocado #818550, mustard #B69B42, chocolate #5C3D2C, ivory #F0E5D1. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "BONES IN THE BUCKET" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

125

BOO BUBBLE BALLET

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A ghost blows three large translucent candy bubbles while balancing on a flat peppermint-disc stage. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: glossy puffy 3D. Use rounded inflated volumes, smooth resin surfaces, broad polished highlights and soft contact shadows; keep separate objects clearly distinguishable. Arrange the character group in a compact shallow arc, varying poses and heights while retaining one unified merchandise silhouette and a separate wording zone. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Witching Hour: plum #654866, sage #899575, ivory #EFE3CD, rust #AD6747, charcoal #332F38. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "BOO BUBBLE BALLET" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

126

SKELETON SWEET SWAP

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. Two skeleton friends trade a lollipop for a peanut-butter cup over a tiny pumpkin-shaped table. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: retro collegiate. Use rounded vintage collegiate lettering, sturdy mascot drawing and a compact crest arrangement with generous open counters. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Retro Trick Or Treat: burnt orange #BA6436, avocado #818550, mustard #B69B42, chocolate #5C3D2C, ivory #F0E5D1. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold collegiate block lettering. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details.

TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "SKELETON SWEET SWAP" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

127

PHANTOM FUDGE FORT

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A ghost builds a four-block chocolate fort with a gummy-bear lookout and a tiny blank wrapper flag. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: woodcut. Use bold carved shapes, purposeful gouge marks and high-contrast solid areas; avoid fragile hairlines and excessive tiny hatching. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Classic Candy Night: pumpkin #C77838, mustard #D0AF59, ivory #F2E5CE, cocoa #58382D, charcoal #343037. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "PHANTOM FUDGE FORT" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

128

BONE APPETITE CANDY NIGHTCONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A skeleton waiter offers a fluted chocolate cup on a silver-looking spoon tray while a ghost adjusts its napkin. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: hand-lettered sign. Use substantial custom hand lettering integrated with the illustration, restrained flourishes and balanced readable spacing; no physical sign rectangle. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Witching Hour: plum #654866, sage #899575, ivory #EFE3CD, rust #AD6747, charcoal #332F38. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "BONE APPETITE CANDY NIGHT" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

129

GHOST MARSHMALLOW FAMILY

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. Three marshmallow-shaped ghosts gather inside a folded blank paper candy cone, each with a distinct soft expression. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: clay-like 3D. Use hand-shaped clay volume, softly rounded edges, subtle finger-smoothed texture and diffuse studio lighting without a floor or cast backdrop. Build one compact self-contained vignette with a strong irregular outer silhouette; use supporting details to frame the interaction rather than fill the surrounding canvas. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Caramel Crypt: caramel #B88755, chocolate #5C3E30, cream #F1DFC5, olive #87845B, terracotta #B9785C. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

ART-ONLY RULE: No words, letters, numbers, labels or pseudo-text anywhere in the artwork. Let the character interaction carry the entire concept. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

130

SKELETON LOLLIPOP LIFTER

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A skeleton weightlifter raises a candy-stick bar with round lollipop weights while a gummy bear acts as coach. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: bold varsity. Use athletic block lettering, a compact emblem silhouette and strong flat shapes; all athletic details must be generic and unbranded. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Classic Candy Night: pumpkin #C77838, mustard #D0AF59, ivory #F2E5CE, cocoa #58382D, charcoal #343037. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold collegiate block lettering. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details.

TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "SKELETON LOLLIPOP LIFTER" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

131

BOO CREW CANDY CRUISECONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. Three ghosts pilot a candy bucket airship with a licorice basket and a puffed marshmallow balloon. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: whimsical storybook. Use warm hand-painted shading, gently irregular contours and expressive poses, with simplified props and a readable central vignette. Arrange the character group in a compact shallow arc, varying poses and heights while retaining one unified merchandise silhouette and a separate wording zone. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Witching Hour: plum #654866, sage #899575, ivory #EFE3CD, rust #AD6747, charcoal #332F38. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "BOO CREW CANDY CRUISE" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

132

RIB TICKLING TREATS

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A laughing skeleton juggles three gummy bones while one lands gently on its skull like an accidental hat. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: doodle. Use playful confident hand-drawn lines, small gesture marks and sparse shading; avoid a surrounding scatter of unrelated icons. Arrange the character group in a compact shallow arc, varying poses and heights while retaining one unified merchandise silhouette and a separate wording zone. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Caramel Crypt: caramel #B88755, chocolate #5C3E30, cream #F1DFC5, olive #87845B, terracotta #B9785C. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "RIB TICKLING TREATS" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

07

WITCHES BLACK CATS & CAULDRONS

20 ORIGINAL CONCEPTS / 133-152

Original witches, black cats and deliciously playful cauldrons.

HOW TO USE

Copy one complete prompt into your image generator. Keep its exact text rule, generic-candy details and isolation requirements. Review the generated lettering and details before production.

133

WITCHFUL SNACKING

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. An original friendly witch sits on a tilted pumpkin bucket, inspecting a peach gummy ring through her crooked spectacles. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: hand-drawn illustration. Use clean period-inspired outlines, warm flat-color fills, restrained print-grain texture and expressive original mascot gestures; preserve broad highlights. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Witching Hour: plum #654866, sage #899575, ivory #EFE3CD, rust #AD6747, charcoal #332F38. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "WITCHFUL SNACKING" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

134

CAT'S GOT THE CARAMEL

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A mischievous black cat carries a caramel cube gently in its paws while an empty blank wrapper hangs from its tail. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: cute sticker art. Use a unified bold outer contour, simple cel shading and friendly expressions; any sticker-style rim must follow the artwork silhouette. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Caramel Crypt: caramel #B88755, chocolate #5C3E30, cream #F1DFC5, olive #87845B, terracotta #B9785C. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in heavy rounded display lettering. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "CAT'S GOT THE CARAMEL" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

135

CAULDRON CANDY COMMITTEE

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. Three small witches debate over a cauldron filled with separate candy corn, gummy worms and plain chocolate squares. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: retro comic cover. Create a lively self-contained comic vignette with dramatic diagonals, expressive ink drawing and localized halftone bursts; no rectangular cover frame. Arrange the character group in a compact shallow arc, varying poses and heights while retaining one unified merchandise silhouette and a separate wording zone. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Classic Candy Night: pumpkin #C77838, mustard #D0AF59, ivory #F2E5CE, cocoa #58382D, charcoal #343037. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "CAULDRON CANDY COMMITTEE" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

136

BROOM SERVICE TREATS

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A witch courier rides a broom carrying a balanced pumpkin bucket of lollipops secured by a broad licorice strap. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: vintage advertising. Use clean period-inspired outlines, warm flat-color fills, restrained print-grain texture and expressive original mascot gestures; preserve broad highlights. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Retro Trick Or Treat: burnt orange #BA6436, avocado #818550, mustard #B69B42, chocolate #5C3D2C, ivory #F0E5D1. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "BROOM SERVICE TREATS" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

137

FAMILIAR WITH FUDGE

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A black cat assistant presents a chocolate fudge cube to a witch using a tiny spoon tray. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: dark academia. Use antique-style ink contours, warm paper-like highlights inside the artwork and thoughtful botanical accents without an actual paper backdrop. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Caramel Crypt: caramel #B88755, chocolate #5C3E30, cream #F1DFC5, olive #87845B, terracotta #B9785C. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "FAMILIAR WITH FUDGE" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

138

HOCUS POCUS SUGAR FOCUS

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A witch focuses a lollipop wand toward three levitating generic candy shapes above a small empty cauldron. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: groovy 70s. Use flowing rounded forms, sweeping organic contours, offset muted-color shadows and an upbeat vintage rhythm. Arrange the character group in a compact shallow arc, varying poses and heights while retaining one unified merchandise silhouette and a separate wording zone. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Retro Trick Or Treat: burnt orange #BA6436, avocado #818550, mustard #B69B42, chocolate #5C3D2C, ivory #F0E5D1. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in heavy rounded display lettering. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "HOCUS POCUS SUGAR FOCUS" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

139

PURRANORMAL PEANUT BUTTERCONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A black cat in a bat collar curls around a fluted peanut-butter cup with one visible cutaway wedge. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: glossy puffy 3D. Use rounded inflated volumes, smooth resin surfaces, broad polished highlights and soft contact shadows; keep separate objects clearly distinguishable. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Witching Hour: plum #654866, sage #899575, ivory #EFE3CD, rust #AD6747, charcoal #332F38. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "PURRANORMAL PEANUT BUTTER" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

140

CAULDRON QUALITY CONTROL

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A witch chef tastes a tiny caramel droplet from a spoon while a gummy worm inspector checks the pot rim. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: vintage diner. Use clean period-inspired outlines, warm flat-color fills, restrained print-grain texture and expressive original mascot gestures; preserve broad highlights. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Retro Trick Or Treat: burnt orange #BA6436, avocado #818550, mustard #B69B42, chocolate #5C3D2C, ivory #F0E5D1. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "CAULDRON QUALITY CONTROL" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

141

WITCH HAT SWEET STASH

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. An upside-down pointed witch hat holds a tidy mound of recognizable candy shapes with a black kitten peeking over its brim. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: folk art. Use decorative symmetry where suitable, broad painted shapes, simple warm patterns and deliberately handmade contour variation. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Classic Candy Night: pumpkin #C77838, mustard #D0AF59, ivory #F2E5CE, cocoa #58382D, charcoal #343037. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "WITCH HAT SWEET STASH" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

142

CAT AND CANDY CRESCENT

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A curled black cat rests on a crescent made of plain chocolate segments, with one orange candy corn beside its paws. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: linocut. Use crisp carved contours, broad flat ink areas and sparse texture inside shapes; retain deliberate negative-space channels. Build one compact self-contained vignette with a strong irregular outer silhouette; use supporting details to frame the interaction rather than fill the surrounding canvas. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Witching Hour: plum #654866, sage #899575, ivory #EFE3CD, rust #AD6747, charcoal #332F38. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

ART-ONLY RULE: No words, letters, numbers, labels or pseudo-text anywhere in the artwork. Let the character interaction carry the entire concept. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

143

THE SUGAR SPELL APPRENTICE

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A tiny witch apprentice struggles to lift an oversized lollipop wand while a patient cat props up its stick. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: kawaii. Use compact rounded proportions, small widely spaced eyes, soft blush cheeks and tidy bold outlines; exaggerate the gesture rather than adding clutter. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Caramel Crypt: caramel #B88755, chocolate #5C3E30, cream #F1DFC5, olive #87845B, terracotta #B9785C. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in heavy rounded display lettering. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "THE SUGAR SPELL APPRENTICE" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

144

BROOM BRAKE CANDY BREAKCONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A witch parks her broom on two gumball supports and relaxes with a plain wrapped taffy beside a pumpkin bucket. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: mid-century illustration. Use clean period-inspired outlines, warm flat-color fills, restrained print-grain texture and expressive original mascot gestures; preserve broad highlights. Use a balanced central arrangement with broad simple shapes, asymmetrical supporting accents and generous breathing room around the main gesture. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Classic Candy Night: pumpkin #C77838, mustard #D0AF59, ivory #F2E5CE, cocoa #58382D, charcoal #343037. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "BROOM BRAKE CANDY BREAK" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

145

WHISKERS AND WAFERS

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A black cat in an apron stacks three chocolate-covered wafer fingers, leaving one cut end visible for the layered texture. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: cottagecore. Use delicate but printable botanical contours, soft gouache fills and homely kitchen details without surrounding scenery. Arrange the character group in a compact shallow arc, varying poses and heights while retaining one unified merchandise silhouette and a separate wording zone. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Witching Hour: plum #654866, sage #899575, ivory #EFE3CD, rust #AD6747, charcoal #332F38. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "WHISKERS AND WAFERS" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

146

CAULDRON CROCHET CLUB

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A witch crochets a broad sour-candy belt into a scarf while a kitten holds the loose end beside the candy pot. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: embroidery-inspired art. Use chunky thread direction, satin-stitch fills and visible stitched contours; keep thread details subordinate to the large readable shapes. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Caramel Crypt: caramel #B88755, chocolate #5C3E30, cream #F1DFC5, olive #87845B, terracotta #B9785C. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "CAULDRON CROCHET CLUB" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

147

SWEET HEX EXPRESS

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A cauldron on gumdrop wheels carries a witch and cat with a lollipop steering wheel and one gummy worm passenger. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: retro 60s. Use clean period-inspired outlines, warm flat-color fills, restrained print-grain texture and expressive original mascot gestures; preserve broad highlights. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Retro Trick Or Treat: burnt orange #BA6436, avocado #818550, mustard #B69B42, chocolate #5C3D2C, ivory #F0E5D1. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "SWEET HEX EXPRESS" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

148

CATNAP CANDY SECURITY

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A sleeping black cat lies across a plain candy jar lid while a tiny ghost waits politely with an empty bucket. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: heirloom appliqué. Render softly padded fabric forms with felt edges, generous blanket stitching and restrained cotton patterns; all stitching is printed illustration. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Witching Hour: plum #654866, sage #899575, ivory #EFE3CD, rust #AD6747, charcoal #332F38. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "CATNAP CANDY SECURITY" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

149

WITCH'S LICORICE LESSON

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A witch demonstrates a broad licorice knot to two kitten apprentices seated on plain caramel cubes. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: vintage engraving. Use controlled crosshatching and curved engraved contours, concentrating shadow under overlaps and preserving large open highlights. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Caramel Crypt: caramel #B88755, chocolate #5C3E30, cream #F1DFC5, olive #87845B, terracotta #B9785C. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "WITCH'S LICORICE LESSON" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

150

CANDY CAULDRON COWGIRL

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. An original witch cowgirl lassos a floating butterscotch disc above a small cauldron with a caramel rope. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: western. Use sturdy hand-inked forms, leather-like warm shading, rope curves and a restrained western lettering treatment without tiny decorative spurs. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Haunted Frontier: terracotta #B77458, tan #C6A27C, turquoise #608F91, chocolate #543A2D, antique gold #AF924E. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "CANDY CAULDRON COWGIRL" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

151

NINE LIVES ONE SWEET TOOTH

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A black cat balances a candy necklace on its paws while wearing a tiny pointed hat and a smug expression. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: tattoo flash. Use clean period-inspired outlines, warm flat-color fills, restrained print-grain texture and expressive original mascot gestures; preserve broad highlights. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Witching Hour: plum #654866, sage #899575, ivory #EFE3CD, rust #AD6747, charcoal #332F38. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "NINE LIVES ONE SWEET TOOTH" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

152

CAULDRON CANDY BLOOMS

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A smiling cauldron sprouts lollipop flowers, sour-belt leaves and a small gummy frog at its base. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: clay-like 3D. Use hand-shaped clay volume, softly rounded edges, subtle finger-smoothed texture and diffuse studio lighting without a floor or cast backdrop. Build one compact self-contained vignette with a strong irregular outer silhouette; use supporting details to frame the interaction rather than fill the surrounding canvas. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Caramel Crypt: caramel #B88755, chocolate #5C3E30, cream #F1DFC5, olive #87845B, terracotta #B9785C. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

ART-ONLY RULE: No words, letters, numbers, labels or pseudo-text anywhere in the artwork. Let the character interaction carry the entire concept. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

08

MONSTERS VAMPIRES & SWEET CREATURES

20 ORIGINAL CONCEPTS / 153-172

Vampires, mummies, bats and friendly original monsters.

HOW TO USE

Copy one complete prompt into your image generator. Keep its exact text rule, generic-candy details and isolation requirements. Review the generated lettering and details before production.

153

FANGS FOR THE CANDY

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. An original little vampire bows politely while receiving a plain chocolate square from a friendly ghost. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: vintage mascot. Use clean period-inspired outlines, warm flat-color fills, restrained print-grain texture and expressive original mascot gestures; preserve broad highlights. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Retro Trick Or Treat: burnt orange #BA6436, avocado #818550, mustard #B69B42, chocolate #5C3D2C, ivory #F0E5D1. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "FANGS FOR THE CANDY" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

154

MUMMY'S CANDY WRAP

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A mummy accidentally wraps a caramel cube in its own loose bandage, with the caramel still mostly exposed. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: cartoon mascot. Use clean period-inspired outlines, warm flat-color fills, restrained print-grain texture and expressive original mascot gestures; preserve broad highlights. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Caramel Crypt: caramel #B88755, chocolate #5C3E30, cream #F1DFC5, olive #87845B, terracotta #B9785C. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "MUMMY'S CANDY WRAP" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

155

FRANKENFUDGE

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. An original stitched green monster carefully assembles a creature from four fudge blocks with pretzel-like candy-stick legs. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: comic-book art. Use dynamic ink contours, selective halftone shadows and two or three strong motion accents that reinforce the action. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Classic Candy Night: pumpkin #C77838, mustard #D0AF59, ivory #F2E5CE, cocoa #58382D, charcoal #343037. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "FRANKENFUDGE" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

156

WEREWOLF WAFER WATCH

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A friendly fluffy werewolf hugs a stack of chocolate wafer fingers and howls softly at a peppermint moon. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: woodcut. Use bold carved shapes, purposeful gouge marks and high-contrast solid areas; avoid fragile hairlines and excessive tiny hatching. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Witching Hour: plum #654866, sage #899575, ivory #EFE3CD, rust #AD6747, charcoal #332F38. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "WEREWOLF WAFER WATCH" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

157

BAT ATTITUDE SWEET SNACKS

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A small bat wears sunglasses and carries a fluted peanut-butter cup in a tiny leaf sling. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: distressed screen print. Use four or five separable ink-like color areas and light wear inside large fills; distress must never erode important lettering. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Caramel Crypt: caramel #B88755, chocolate #5C3E30, cream #F1DFC5, olive #87845B, terracotta #B9785C. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "BAT ATTITUDE SWEET SNACKS" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

158

MONSTER MUNCH MECHANIC

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A one-eyed original monster fixes a lollipop wheel on a pumpkin bucket cart using a licorice wrench. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: retro comic cover. Create a lively self-contained comic vignette with dramatic diagonals, expressive ink drawing and localized halftone bursts; no rectangular cover frame. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Classic Candy Night: pumpkin #C77838, mustard #D0AF59, ivory #F2E5CE, cocoa #58382D, charcoal #343037. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "MONSTER MUNCH MECHANIC" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

159

VAMPIRE GUMMY DENTIST

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A vampire dentist measures two removable gummy fangs beside a rounded patient gummy bear with a brave expression. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: vintage engraving. Use controlled crosshatching and curved engraved contours, concentrating shadow under overlaps and preserving large open highlights. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Witching Hour: plum #654866, sage #899575, ivory #EFE3CD, rust #AD6747, charcoal #332F38. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "VAMPIRE GUMMY DENTIST" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

160

MUMMY TAFFY TANGO

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A mummy dances with a stretched taffy ribbon while its blank wrapper turns into a tiny bow tie. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: groovy 70s. Use flowing rounded forms, sweeping organic contours, offset muted-color shadows and an upbeat vintage rhythm. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Retro Trick Or Treat: burnt orange #BA6436, avocado #818550, mustard #B69B42, chocolate #5C3D2C, ivory #F0E5D1. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in heavy rounded display lettering. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details.

TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "MUMMY TAFFY TANGO" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

161

BATS ABOUT BRITTLE

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. Two bats share a peanut-brittle shard suspended between their paws, with a tiny pumpkin bucket below. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: folk art. Use decorative symmetry where suitable, broad painted shapes, simple warm patterns and deliberately handmade contour variation. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Classic Candy Night: pumpkin #C77838, mustard #D0AF59, ivory #F2E5CE, cocoa #58382D, charcoal #343037. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "BATS ABOUT BRITTLE" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

162

CREATURE FROM THE CANDY BOWL

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A friendly fin-eared original lagoon monster rises from a bowl of jelly beans, wearing a gummy-ring life vest. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: gothic tattoo flash. Use strong ink contours, decorative pointed leaf framing and restrained crosshatching; keep the creature friendly and the mood playfully autumnal. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Witching Hour: plum #654866, sage #899575, ivory #EFE3CD, rust #AD6747, charcoal #332F38. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "CREATURE FROM THE CANDY BOWL" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

163

MONSTER MARSHMALLOW NEST

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A soft horned original monster gently tucks three ghost-shaped marshmallows into a plain folded-wrapper bed. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: whimsical storybook. Use warm hand-painted shading, gently irregular contours and expressive poses, with simplified props and a readable central vignette. Build one compact self-contained vignette with a strong irregular outer silhouette; use supporting details to frame the interaction rather than fill the surrounding canvas. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Caramel Crypt: caramel #B88755, chocolate #5C3E30, cream #F1DFC5, olive #87845B, terracotta #B9785C. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

ART-ONLY RULE: No words, letters, numbers, labels or pseudo-text anywhere in the artwork. Let the character interaction carry the entire concept. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

164

WEREWOLF CANDY COURIER

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A werewolf on a chocolate-bar scooter delivers plain twist-wrapped taffy with a pumpkin bucket helmet. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: retro 60s. Use clean period-inspired outlines, warm flat-color fills, restrained print-grain texture and expressive original mascot gestures; preserve broad highlights. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Retro Trick Or Treat: burnt orange #BA6436, avocado #818550, mustard #B69B42, chocolate #5C3D2C, ivory #F0E5D1. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "WEREWOLF CANDY COURIER" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

165

COUNT CARAMEL

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A dignified original vampire carries a caramel apple on a spoon pedestal with a small satin cape and no insignia. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: glossy puffy 3D. Use rounded inflated volumes, smooth resin surfaces, broad polished highlights and soft contact shadows; keep separate objects clearly distinguishable. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Witching Hour: plum #654866, sage #899575, ivory #EFE3CD, rust #AD6747, charcoal #332F38. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "COUNT CARAMEL" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

166

SUGAR ZOMBIE SHUFFLE

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A friendly sleepy green zombie walks slowly with a pumpkin bucket while a gummy worm acts as its shoelace. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: cute sticker art. Use a unified bold outer contour, simple cel shading and friendly expressions; any sticker-style rim must follow the artwork silhouette. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Caramel Crypt: caramel #B88755, chocolate #5C3E30, cream #F1DFC5, olive #87845B, terracotta #B9785C. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in heavy rounded display lettering. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details.

TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "SUGAR ZOMBIE SHUFFLE" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

167

MUMMY MAPLE MYSTERY

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A mummy detective studies a leaf-shaped maple candy through a lollipop lens with loose bandage ends kept inside the composition. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: dark academia. Use antique-style ink contours, warm paper-like highlights inside the artwork and thoughtful botanical accents without an actual paper backdrop. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Classic Candy Night: pumpkin #C77838, mustard #D0AF59, ivory #F2E5CE, cocoa #58382D, charcoal #343037. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "MUMMY MAPLE MYSTERY" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

168

SWEET TOOTH SEA MONSTER

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A tiny tentacled original sea monster juggles three generic candy shapes above a shell-shaped candy bowl. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: clay-like 3D. Use hand-shaped clay volume, softly rounded edges, subtle finger-smoothed texture and diffuse studio lighting without a floor or cast backdrop. Arrange the character group in a compact shallow arc, varying poses and heights while retaining one unified merchandise silhouette and a separate wording zone. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Witching Hour: plum #654866, sage #899575, ivory #EFE3CD, rust #AD6747, charcoal #332F38. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in heavy rounded display lettering. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "SWEET TOOTH SEA MONSTER" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

169

GOBLIN GUMDROP GARAGE

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. An original goblin mechanic patches a gumdrop tire on a chocolate wafer wagon using a little candy-stick tool. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: vintage advertising. Use clean period-inspired outlines, warm flat-color fills, restrained print-grain texture and expressive original mascot gestures; preserve broad highlights. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Retro Trick Or Treat: burnt orange #BA6436, avocado #818550, mustard #B69B42, chocolate #5C3D2C, ivory #F0E5D1. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "GOBLIN GUMDROP GARAGE" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

170

VAMPIRE CANDY CAPE

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A tiny vampire holds open a cape lined with neatly separated generic sweets, with a big proud smile. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: maximalist collage. Layer the specified objects into a dense but clearly ordered arrangement; maintain one dominant subject and distinct gaps around supporting pieces. Build a layered irregular collage with one dominant central subject; overlap only secondary props, maintaining distinct contour gaps and a clear lettering zone. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Classic Candy Night: pumpkin #C77838, mustard #D0AF59, ivory #F2E5CE, cocoa #58382D, charcoal #343037. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "VAMPIRE CANDY CAPE" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

171

TROLL TOLL TREATS

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. An original bridge troll collects one caramel cube as a toll from a ghost crossing a tiny chocolate-segment bridge. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: whimsical storybook. Use warm hand-painted shading, gently irregular contours and expressive poses, with simplified props and a readable central vignette. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Witching Hour: plum #654866, sage #899575, ivory #EFE3CD, rust #AD6747, charcoal #332F38. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "TROLL TOLL TREATS" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

172

BAT WING BONBON

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A rounded chocolate bonbon develops tiny bat wings and perches upside down on a curved licorice branch. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: minimal modern. Reduce objects to precise geometric silhouettes with a small number of rounded expressive details and generous internal breathing room. Build one compact self-contained vignette with a strong irregular outer silhouette; use supporting details to frame the interaction rather than fill the surrounding canvas. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Caramel Crypt: caramel #B88755, chocolate #5C3E30, cream #F1DFC5, olive #87845B, terracotta #B9785C. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

ART-ONLY RULE: No words, letters, numbers, labels or pseudo-text anywhere in the artwork. Let the character interaction carry the entire concept. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

09

CUTE KAWAII & COQUETTE CANDY

20 ORIGINAL CONCEPTS / 173-192

Soft bows, pastel palettes and adorable candy friendships.

HOW TO USE

Copy one complete prompt into your image generator. Keep its exact text rule, generic-candy details and isolation requirements. Review the generated lettering and details before production.

173

SWEET LITTLE BOO

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A blush-cheeked ghost wears a large gingham bow and hugs a candy corn nearly its own height. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: kawaii. Use compact rounded proportions, small widely spaced eyes, soft blush cheeks and tidy bold outlines; exaggerate the gesture rather than adding clutter. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Pastel Boo: dusty rose #C2939B, lavender #A396B6, soft peach #E9B79A, cream #F2E5D4, espresso #4E3831. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in heavy rounded display lettering. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details.

TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "SWEET LITTLE BOO" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

174

CANDY BOW BESTIES

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A gummy bear and fluted peanut-butter cup share one oversized satin-look bow, with their separate candy silhouettes clearly visible. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: glossy puffy 3D. Use rounded inflated volumes, smooth resin surfaces, broad polished highlights and soft contact shadows; keep separate objects clearly distinguishable. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Pastel Boo: dusty rose #C2939B, lavender #A396B6, soft peach #E9B79A, cream #F2E5D4, espresso #4E3831. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "CANDY BOW BESTIES" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

175

PINK PUMPKIN SWEET CLUB

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A dusty-rose pumpkin bucket carries a smiling marshmallow ghost and two pastel gummy rings under a soft bow. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: cute sticker art. Use a unified bold outer contour, simple cel shading and friendly expressions; any sticker-style rim must follow the artwork silhouette. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Pastel Boo: dusty rose #C2939B, lavender #A396B6, soft peach #E9B79A, cream #F2E5D4, espresso #4E3831. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in heavy rounded display lettering. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "PINK PUMPKIN SWEET CLUB" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

176

TINY FANG BIG SWEET TOOTH

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A small round vampire bat with one visible fang holds a chocolate square in oversized knitted mittens. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: embroidery-inspired art. Use chunky thread direction, satin-stitch fills and visible stitched contours; keep thread details subordinate to the large readable shapes. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Pastel Boo: dusty rose #C2939B, lavender #A396B6, soft peach #E9B79A, cream #F2E5D4, espresso #4E3831. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "TINY FANG BIG SWEET TOOTH" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

177

GUMDROP GIGGLES

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. Two dome-shaped gumdrops in tiny witch hats giggle while balancing a shared lollipop umbrella. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: clay-like 3D. Use hand-shaped clay volume, softly rounded edges, subtle finger-smoothed texture and diffuse studio lighting without a floor or cast backdrop. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Pastel Boo: dusty rose #C2939B, lavender #A396B6, soft peach #E9B79A, cream #F2E5D4, espresso #4E3831. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in heavy rounded display lettering. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details.

TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "GUMDROP GIGGLES" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

178

CANDY CORN CARDIGAN

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A candy corn character wears an open lavender cardigan, with all three familiar colored bands unobstructed. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: heirloom appliqué. Render softly padded fabric forms with felt edges, generous blanket stitching and restrained cotton patterns; all stitching is printed illustration. Arrange the character group in a compact shallow arc, varying poses and heights while retaining one unified merchandise silhouette and a separate wording zone. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Pastel Boo: dusty rose #C2939B, lavender #A396B6, soft peach #E9B79A, cream #F2E5D4, espresso #4E3831. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "CANDY CORN CARDIGAN" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

179

GHOST PEARL PICNIC

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. Two tiny ghosts picnic with a fluted chocolate cup and pastel candy beads beneath a single illustrated lace bow. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: cottagecore. Use delicate but printable botanical contours, soft gouache fills and homely kitchen details without surrounding scenery. Build one compact self-contained vignette with a strong irregular outer silhouette; use supporting details to frame the interaction rather than fill the surrounding canvas. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Pastel Boo: dusty rose #C2939B, lavender #A396B6, soft peach #E9B79A, cream #F2E5D4, espresso #4E3831. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

ART-ONLY RULE: No words, letters, numbers, labels or pseudo-text anywhere in the artwork. Let the character interaction carry the entire concept. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

180

LOLLIPOP LOVE LETTER

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A spiral lollipop offers a ghost a folded blank envelope decorated only with a tiny sugar heart. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: scrapbook. Use illustrated cut-paper layers, restrained torn edges and a few patterned scraps; the irregular collage silhouette stays isolated. Build a layered irregular collage with one dominant central subject; overlap only secondary props, maintaining distinct contour gaps and a clear lettering zone. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Pastel Boo: dusty rose #C2939B, lavender #A396B6, soft peach #E9B79A, cream #F2E5D4, espresso #4E3831. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "LOLLIPOP LOVE LETTER" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

181

CAMEL CUDDLE BUDDY

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A soft caramel cube peeks from a little quilted ghost pouch with a floppy bow and rosy cheeks. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: patchwork. Build broad fabric-shaped pieces with subtle gingham and linen patterns, visible blanket-stitch edges and believable overlapping appliqué layers. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Pastel Boo: dusty rose #C2939B, lavender #A396B6, soft peach #E9B79A, cream #F2E5D4, espresso #4E3831. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "CAMEL CUDDLE BUDDY" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

182

KITTY CANDY TEA PARTY

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A black kitten in a soft bow hosts a marshmallow ghost with a cup holding two gummy rings and a candy-stick spoon. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: whimsical storybook. Use warm hand-painted shading, gently irregular contours and expressive poses, with simplified props and a readable central vignette. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Pastel Boo: dusty rose #C2939B, lavender #A396B6, soft peach #E9B79A, cream #F2E5D4, espresso #4E3831. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "KITTY CANDY TEA PARTY" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

183

SWEET SPOOKY SLUMBER

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A sleepy ghost rests on a marshmallow pillow under a stitched candy-wrapper quilt with no printed text. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: heirloom appliqué. Render softly padded fabric forms with felt edges, generous blanket stitching and restrained cotton patterns; all stitching is printed illustration. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Pastel Boo: dusty rose #C2939B, lavender #A396B6, soft peach #E9B79A, cream #F2E5D4, espresso #4E3831. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "SWEET SPOOKY SLUMBER" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

184

BOWS BEFORE BOOS

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A tiny bat helps a candy corn tie a large gingham bow around its middle without obscuring its triangular outline. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: cute sticker art. Use a unified bold outer contour, simple cel shading and friendly expressions; any sticker-style rim must follow the artwork silhouette. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Pastel Boo: dusty rose #C2939B, lavender #A396B6, soft peach #E9B79A, cream #F2E5D4, espresso #4E3831. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in heavy rounded display lettering. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details.

TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "BOWS BEFORE BOOS" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

185

PASTEL SOUR POWER

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A smiling sugar-coated sour belt curls into a heart around a tiny ghost holding a gumdrop. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: minimal modern. Reduce objects to precise geometric silhouettes with a small number of rounded expressive details and generous internal breathing room. Use a balanced central arrangement with broad simple shapes, asymmetrical supporting accents and generous breathing room around the main gesture. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Pastel Boo: dusty rose #C2939B, lavender #A396B6, soft peach #E9B79A, cream #F2E5D4, espresso #4E3831. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "PASTEL SOUR POWER" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

186

GUMMY BEAR GHOST HUG

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A translucent gummy bear hugs a soft ghost who wraps its floating tail around the bear like a scarf. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: glossy puffy 3D. Use rounded inflated volumes, smooth resin surfaces, broad polished highlights and soft contact shadows; keep separate objects clearly distinguishable. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Pastel Boo: dusty rose #C2939B, lavender #A396B6, soft peach #E9B79A, cream #F2E5D4, espresso #4E3831. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "GUMMY BEAR GHOST HUG" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

187

LITTLE SWEET SPELL

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A baby witch stirs pastel jelly beans in a small cream cauldron with a round lollipop spoon. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: kawaii. Use compact rounded proportions, small widely spaced eyes, soft blush cheeks and tidy bold outlines; exaggerate the gesture rather than adding clutter. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Pastel Boo: dusty rose #C2939B, lavender #A396B6, soft peach #E9B79A, cream #F2E5D4, espresso #4E3831. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in heavy rounded display lettering. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details.

TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "LITTLE SWEET SPELL" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

188

CANDY CHARM GARLAND

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A neat curved candy-bead garland holds a tiny ghost charm, one candy corn and a soft satin bow inside one compact silhouette. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: folk art. Use decorative symmetry where suitable, broad painted shapes, simple warm patterns and deliberately handmade contour variation. Build one compact self-contained vignette with a strong irregular outer silhouette; use supporting details to frame the interaction rather than fill the surrounding canvas. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Pastel Boo: dusty rose #C2939B, lavender #A396B6, soft peach #E9B79A, cream #F2E5D4, espresso #4E3831. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

ART-ONLY RULE: No words, letters, numbers, labels or pseudo-text anywhere in the artwork. Let the character interaction carry the entire concept. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

189

PUMPKIN PURSE PALS

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A cute ghost carries a small pumpkin handbag with one lollipop and one plain wrapped caramel peeking out. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: vintage fashion illustration. Use elegant elongated accessory shapes, fluid brush outlines and restrained gouache shading while keeping the food immediately recognizable. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Pastel Boo: dusty rose #C2939B, lavender #A396B6, soft peach #E9B79A, cream #F2E5D4, espresso #4E3831. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "PUMPKIN PURSE PALS" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

190

SUGAR SOCKS SOCIETY

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. Three mini candy characters wear mismatched chunky socks and carry a pumpkin bucket together. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: doodle. Use playful confident hand-drawn lines, small gesture marks and sparse shading; avoid a surrounding scatter of unrelated icons. Arrange the character group in a compact shallow arc, varying poses and heights while retaining one unified merchandise silhouette and a separate wording zone. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Pastel Boo: dusty rose #C2939B, lavender #A396B6, soft peach #E9B79A, cream #F2E5D4, espresso #4E3831. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "SUGAR SOCKS SOCIETY" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

191

COZY BONBON BOO

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A chocolate bonbon in a pink knitted hat naps beside a tiny ghost marshmallow and a folded unlettered wrapper. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: embroidery-inspired art. Use chunky thread direction, satin-stitch fills and visible stitched contours; keep thread details subordinate to the large readable shapes. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Pastel Boo: dusty rose #C2939B, lavender #A396B6, soft peach #E9B79A, cream #F2E5D4, espresso #4E3831. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "COZY BONBON BOO" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

192

BUBBLEGUM BAT BABY

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A tiny bat with rounded wings blows a single pale-pink gum bubble while holding two plain gum cubes. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: clay-like 3D. Use hand-shaped clay volume, softly rounded edges, subtle finger-smoothed texture and diffuse studio lighting without a floor or cast backdrop. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Pastel Boo: dusty rose #C2939B, lavender #A396B6, soft peach #E9B79A, cream #F2E5D4, espresso #4E3831. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in heavy rounded display lettering. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details.

TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "BUBBLEGUM BAT BABY" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

10

RETRO CANDY MASCOTS

18 ORIGINAL CONCEPTS / 193-210

Nostalgic candy mascots with original vintage character charm.

HOW TO USE

Copy one complete prompt into your image generator. Keep its exact text rule, generic-candy details and isolation requirements. Review the generated lettering and details before production.

193

THE CANDY CORN KID

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. An original rubber-hose candy corn mascot tips a small hat while carrying a pumpkin bucket on a sturdy candy-stick arm. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: vintage mascot. Use clean period-inspired outlines, warm flat-color fills, restrained print-grain texture and expressive original mascot gestures; preserve broad highlights. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Retro Trick Or Treat: burnt orange #BA6436, avocado #818550, mustard #B69B42, chocolate #5C3D2C, ivory #F0E5D1. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "THE CANDY CORN KID" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

194

GUMDROP GAS STATION

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A smiling gumdrop attendant fills a candy bucket car with jelly beans from a little unlettered scoop pump. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: vintage advertising. Use clean period-inspired outlines, warm flat-color fills, restrained print-grain texture and expressive original mascot gestures; preserve broad highlights. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Retro Trick Or Treat: burnt orange #BA6436, avocado #818550, mustard #B69B42, chocolate #5C3D2C, ivory #F0E5D1. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "GUMDROP GAS STATION" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

195

SWEET SHOP NIGHT SHIFT

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A ghost shopkeeper arranges unlettered jars of gummy worms, peppermint discs and plain chocolate squares beneath a small awning silhouette. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: vintage diner. Use clean period-inspired outlines, warm flat-color fills, restrained print-grain texture and expressive original mascot gestures; preserve broad highlights. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Retro Trick Or Treat: burnt orange #BA6436, avocado #818550, mustard #B69B42, chocolate #5C3D2C, ivory #F0E5D1. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "SWEET SHOP NIGHT SHIFT" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

196

LOLLIPOP LOUNGE

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A spiral lollipop in a bow tie lounges on a chocolate-square chair with one gumdrop ottoman. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: retro 60s. Use clean period-inspired outlines, warm flat-color fills, restrained print-grain texture and expressive original mascot gestures; preserve broad highlights. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Retro Trick Or Treat: burnt orange #BA6436, avocado #818550, mustard #B69B42, chocolate #5C3D2C, ivory #F0E5D1. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "LOLLIPOP LOUNGE" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

197

CARAMEL COURIER COMPANY

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A caramel cube courier in a plain cap pulls a wrapper wagon carrying two candy corns and a marshmallow ghost. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: distressed screen print. Use four or five separable ink-like color areas and light wear inside large fills; distress must never erode important lettering. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Caramel Crypt: caramel #B88755, chocolate #5C3E30, cream #F1DFC5, olive #87845B, terracotta #B9785C. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "CARAMEL COURIER COMPANY" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

198

GROOVY GUMMY GANG

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A gummy bear, worm and ring dance together with loose witch scarves and an oversized round moon accent. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: groovy 70s. Use flowing rounded forms, sweeping organic contours, offset muted-color shadows and an upbeat vintage rhythm. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Retro Trick Or Treat: burnt orange #BA6436, avocado #818550, mustard #B69B42, chocolate #5C3D2C, ivory #F0E5D1. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in heavy rounded display lettering. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details.

TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "GROOVY GUMMY GANG" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

199

CHOCOLATE CHARMER

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A segmented chocolate bar mascot holds a tiny candy-flower bouquet while a ghost blushes beside it. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: vintage advertising. Use clean period-inspired outlines, warm flat-color fills, restrained print-grain texture and expressive original mascot gestures; preserve broad highlights. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Pastel Boo: dusty rose #C2939B, lavender #A396B6, soft peach #E9B79A, cream #F2E5D4, espresso #4E3831. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "CHOCOLATE CHARMER" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

200

BUTTERSCOTCH BARBER

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A butterscotch disc barber trims a ghost's licorice moustache with blunt candy-stick scissors. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: vintage mascot. Use clean period-inspired outlines, warm flat-color fills, restrained print-grain texture and expressive original mascot gestures; preserve broad highlights. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Retro Trick Or Treat: burnt orange #BA6436, avocado #818550, mustard #B69B42, chocolate #5C3D2C, ivory #F0E5D1. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "BUTTERSCOTCH BARBER" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

201

SWEET TOOTH SERVICE CLUB

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A fluted chocolate cup mechanic, lollipop painter and gumdrop gardener pose with one large pumpkin bucket. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: retro collegiate. Use rounded vintage collegiate lettering, sturdy mascot drawing and a compact crest arrangement with generous open counters. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Retro Trick Or Treat: burnt orange #BA6436, avocado #818550, mustard #B69B42, chocolate #5C3D2C, ivory #F0E5D1. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold collegiate block lettering. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details.

TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "SWEET TOOTH SERVICE CLUB" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

202

HALLOWEEN CANDY PARADE

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. Five original candy mascots march with a blank wrapper pennant, led by a marshmallow ghost with a candy-stick baton. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: old grocery-ad illustration. Use clean period-inspired outlines, warm flat-color fills, restrained print-grain texture and expressive original mascot gestures; preserve broad highlights. Build one compact self-contained vignette with a strong irregular outer silhouette; use supporting details to frame the interaction rather than fill the surrounding canvas. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Witching Hour: plum #654866, sage #899575, ivory #EFE3CD, rust #AD6747, charcoal #332F38. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

ART-ONLY RULE: No words, letters, numbers, labels or pseudo-text anywhere in the artwork. Let the character interaction carry the entire concept. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

203

CANDY COUNTER CONFIDENTIAL

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A candy corn detective interviews a nervous jelly bean beside an unlettered candy jar and a tiny spoon microphone. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: halftone illustration. Use substantial outlines and widely spaced halftone dots only within shadow shapes; no dot patterns behind the entire design. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Caramel Crypt: caramel #B88755, chocolate #5C3E30, cream #F1DFC5, olive #87845B, terracotta #B9785C. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "CANDY COUNTER CONFIDENTIAL" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

204

LICORICE LINE DANCE

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. Three twisted licorice sticks in plain western hats perform a compact synchronized dance beside a sugar pumpkin. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: western. Use sturdy hand-inked forms, leather-like warm shading, rope curves and a restrained western lettering treatment without tiny decorative spurs. Arrange the character group in a compact shallow arc, varying poses and heights while retaining one unified merchandise silhouette and a separate wording zone. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Haunted Frontier: terracotta #B77458, tan #C6A27C, turquoise #608F91, chocolate #543A2D, antique gold #AF924E. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "LICORICE LINE DANCE" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

205

PEANUT BUTTER CUP MAYOR

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A fluted chocolate cup mayor waves from a gumdrop podium while two gummy bears applaud without signs. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: mid-century illustration. Use clean period-inspired outlines, warm flat-color fills, restrained print-grain texture and expressive original mascot gestures; preserve broad highlights. Use a balanced central arrangement with broad simple shapes, asymmetrical supporting accents and generous breathing room around the main gesture. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Witching Hour: plum #654866, sage #899575, ivory #EFE3CD, rust #AD6747, charcoal #332F38. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "PEANUT BUTTER CUP MAYOR" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

206

TAFFY TAXI SERVICE

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A soft taffy mascot drives a chocolate wafer taxi with gumdrop wheels and a ghost passenger clutching a bucket. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: retro comic cover. Create a lively self-contained comic vignette with dramatic diagonals, expressive ink drawing and localized halftone bursts; no rectangular cover frame. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Caramel Crypt: caramel #B88755, chocolate #5C3E30, cream #F1DFC5, olive #87845B, terracotta #B9785C. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "TAFFY TAXI SERVICE" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

207

SUGAR SHAKE SOCIAL

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A marshmallow ghost shakes a tiny bag of loose candy beads while a lollipop character dances on a peppermint disc. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: vintage diner. Use clean period-inspired outlines, warm flat-color fills, restrained print-grain texture and expressive original mascot gestures; preserve broad highlights. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Retro Trick Or Treat: burnt orange #BA6436, avocado #818550, mustard #B69B42, chocolate #5C3D2C, ivory #F0E5D1. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "SUGAR SHAKE SOCIAL" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

208

JELLY BEAN JANITOR

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A jelly bean janitor sweeps loose coarse sugar into a small pumpkin dustpan using a licorice broom. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: linocut. Use crisp carved contours, broad flat ink areas and sparse texture inside shapes; retain deliberate negative-space channels. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Witching Hour: plum #654866, sage #899575, ivory #EFE3CD, rust #AD6747, charcoal #332F38. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "JELLY BEAN JANITOR" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

209

SPOOKY SWEET SUPPLY

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A friendly candy tin mascot carries plain foil-wrapped chocolate discs in an open tray with a blank lid. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: woodcut. Use bold carved shapes, purposeful gouge marks and high-contrast solid areas; avoid fragile hairlines and excessive tiny hatching. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Caramel Crypt: caramel #B88755, chocolate #5C3E30, cream #F1DFC5, olive #87845B, terracotta #B9785C. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "SPOOKY SWEET SUPPLY" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

210

BUBBLEGUM BOO BAND

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. Three plain cube-shaped gum mascots play candy-stick instruments while a ghost conducts with a lollipop. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: groovy 70s. Use flowing rounded forms, sweeping organic contours, offset muted-color shadows and an upbeat vintage rhythm. Arrange the character group in a compact shallow arc, varying poses and heights while retaining one unified merchandise silhouette and a separate wording zone. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Retro Trick Or Treat: burnt orange #BA6436, avocado #818550, mustard #B69B42, chocolate #5C3D2C, ivory #F0E5D1. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in heavy rounded display lettering. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "BUBBLEGUM BOO BAND" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

11

TRICK-OR-TREAT & CANDY HUMOR

20 ORIGINAL CONCEPTS / 211-230

Buckets, sorting, swapping and trick-or-treat comedy.

HOW TO USE

Copy one complete prompt into your image generator. Keep its exact text rule, generic-candy details and isolation requirements. Review the generated lettering and details before production.

211

BUCKET LIST COMPLETED

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A triumphant ghost holds an overflowing pumpkin bucket containing visibly distinct candy corn, gummy worms and chocolate squares. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: hand-lettered sign. Use substantial custom hand lettering integrated with the illustration, restrained flourishes and balanced readable spacing; no physical sign rectangle. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Caramel Crypt: caramel #B88755, chocolate #5C3E30, cream #F1DFC5, olive #87845B, terracotta #B9785C. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "BUCKET LIST COMPLETED" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

212

CANDY SORTING SUPERVISOR

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A serious black cat directs two ghosts sorting three candy types into plain bowls with no labels. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: retro comic cover. Create a lively self-contained comic vignette with dramatic diagonals, expressive ink drawing and localized halftone bursts; no rectangular cover frame. Arrange the character group in a compact shallow arc, varying poses and heights while retaining one unified merchandise silhouette and a separate wording zone. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Classic Candy Night: pumpkin #C77838, mustard #D0AF59, ivory #F2E5CE, cocoa #58382D, charcoal #343037. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "CANDY SORTING SUPERVISOR" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

213

TRICK OR TREAT TRAFFIC

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. Three tiny monsters wait at a single pumpkin-bucket candy crossing while a candy corn guard raises a lollipop stop paddle with no text. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: mid-century illustration. Use clean period-inspired outlines, warm flat-color fills, restrained print-grain texture and expressive original mascot gestures; preserve broad highlights. Arrange the character group in a compact shallow arc, varying poses and heights while retaining one unified merchandise silhouette and a separate wording zone. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Witching Hour: plum #654866, sage #899575, ivory #EFE3CD, rust #AD6747, charcoal #332F38. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "TRICK OR TREAT TRAFFIC" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

214

SWEET TAX COLLECTOR

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A parent-sized ghost gently claims one chocolate square from a smaller ghost's bucket while the small ghost gives a theatrical side-eye. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: cartoon mascot. Use clean period-inspired outlines, warm flat-color fills, restrained print-grain texture and expressive original mascot gestures; preserve broad highlights. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Caramel Crypt: caramel #B88755, chocolate #5C3E30, cream #F1DFC5, olive #87845B, terracotta #B9785C. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "SWEET TAX COLLECTOR" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

215

FULL SIZE FEELINGS

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A tiny ghost gasps happily at a very large plain segmented chocolate bar resting diagonally across its pumpkin bucket. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: cute sticker art. Use a unified bold outer contour, simple cel shading and friendly expressions; any sticker-style rim must follow the artwork silhouette. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Classic Candy Night: pumpkin #C77838, mustard #D0AF59, ivory #F2E5CE, cocoa #58382D, charcoal #343037. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in heavy rounded display lettering. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details.

TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "FULL SIZE FEELINGS" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

216

CANDY INVENTORY EXPERT

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A skeleton accountant arranges three distinct piles of generic candy with a blank clipboard and a candy-stick pencil. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: dark academia. Use antique-style ink contours, warm paper-like highlights inside the artwork and thoughtful botanical accents without an actual paper backdrop. Arrange the character group in a compact shallow arc, varying poses and heights while retaining one unified merchandise silhouette and a separate wording zone. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Witching Hour: plum #654866, sage #899575, ivory #EFE3CD, rust #AD6747, charcoal #332F38. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "CANDY INVENTORY EXPERT" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

217

LAST HOUSE LEGEND

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A weary ghost and kitten celebrate beside a pumpkin bucket filled with one oversized spiral lollipop and tidy wrapped caramels. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: retro collegiate. Use rounded vintage collegiate lettering, sturdy mascot drawing and a compact crest arrangement with generous open counters. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Retro Trick Or Treat: burnt orange #BA6436, avocado #818550, mustard #B69B42, chocolate #5C3D2C, ivory #F0E5D1. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold collegiate block lettering. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "LAST HOUSE LEGEND" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

218

WRAPPER RUSTLE CLUB

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. Three shy ghosts peek around a plain twist wrapper while a single butterscotch disc rolls out. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: heirloom appliqué. Render softly padded fabric forms with felt edges, generous blanket stitching and restrained cotton patterns; all stitching is printed illustration. Arrange the character group in a compact shallow arc, varying poses and heights while retaining one unified merchandise silhouette and a separate wording zone. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Classic Candy Night: pumpkin #C77838, mustard #D0AF59, ivory #F2E5CE, cocoa #58382D, charcoal #343037. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "WRAPPER RUSTLE CLUB" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

219

TREAT ROUTE COMMANDER

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A ghost scout studies a blank map with simple unlabeled paths while a gummy worm points toward a tiny pumpkin bucket icon. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: vintage engraving. Use controlled crosshatching and curved engraved contours, concentrating shadow under overlaps and preserving large open highlights. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Witching Hour: plum #654866, sage #899575, ivory #EFE3CD, rust #AD6747, charcoal #332F38. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "TREAT ROUTE COMMANDER" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

220

CANDY TRADING CHAMPION

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. Two original little monsters trade a gummy ring and peanut-butter cup across a pumpkin table with exaggerated negotiation poses. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: bold varsity. Use athletic block lettering, a compact emblem silhouette and strong flat shapes; all athletic details must be generic and unbranded. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Caramel Crypt: caramel #B88755, chocolate #5C3E30, cream #F1DFC5, olive #87845B, terracotta #B9785C. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold collegiate block lettering. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details.

TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "CANDY TRADING CHAMPION" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

221

PUMPKIN BUCKET BACKPACK

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A tiny ghost wears a pumpkin bucket backpack filled with generic candy, with one licorice strap safely visible around its shoulders. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: whimsical storybook. Use warm hand-painted shading, gently irregular contours and expressive poses, with simplified props and a readable central vignette. Build one compact self-contained vignette with a strong irregular outer silhouette; use supporting details to frame the interaction rather than fill the surrounding canvas. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Classic Candy Night: pumpkin #C77838, mustard #D0AF59, ivory #F2E5CE, cocoa #58382D, charcoal #343037. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

ART-ONLY RULE: No words, letters, numbers, labels or pseudo-text anywhere in the artwork. Let the character interaction carry the entire concept. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

222

SWEET STASH SECURITY

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A tiny dragon sits proudly atop a plain candy chest, guarding a lollipop, chocolate bar and three unwrapped caramels. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: tattoo flash. Use clean period-inspired outlines, warm flat-color fills, restrained print-grain texture and expressive original mascot gestures; preserve broad highlights. Arrange the character group in a compact shallow arc, varying poses and heights while retaining one unified merchandise silhouette and a separate wording zone. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Witching Hour: plum #654866, sage #899575, ivory #EFE3CD, rust #AD6747, charcoal #332F38. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "SWEET STASH SECURITY" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

223

ONE MORE SWEET STOP

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A sleepy witch rides a broom with a bucket dangling safely below while a black cat points ahead with an eager paw. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: retro 60s. Use clean period-inspired outlines, warm flat-color fills, restrained print-grain texture and expressive original mascot gestures; preserve broad highlights. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Retro Trick Or Treat: burnt orange #BA6436, avocado #818550, mustard #B69B42, chocolate #5C3D2C, ivory #F0E5D1. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "ONE MORE SWEET STOP" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

224

CANDY CARPOOL CAPTAIN

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A skeleton pulls a pumpkin wagon carrying three small original monsters and separate recognizable candy shapes. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: folk art. Use decorative symmetry where suitable, broad painted shapes, simple warm patterns and deliberately handmade contour variation. Arrange the character group in a compact shallow arc, varying poses and heights while retaining one unified merchandise silhouette and a separate wording zone. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Classic Candy Night: pumpkin #C77838, mustard #D0AF59, ivory #F2E5CE, cocoa #58382D, charcoal #343037. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "CANDY CARPOOL CAPTAIN" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

225

TREATS REQUIRE TEAMWORK

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A ghost and gummy bear lift an oversized lollipop into a bucket while a candy corn braces the rim. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: comic-book art. Use dynamic ink contours, selective halftone shadows and two or three strong motion accents that reinforce the action. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Witching Hour: plum #654866, sage #899575, ivory #EFE3CD, rust #AD6747, charcoal #332F38. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "TREATS REQUIRE TEAMWORK" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

226

SNACK SACK STRATEGIST

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A black cat carefully packs a plain cloth candy sack with chocolate squares below and fragile candy sticks above. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: minimal modern. Reduce objects to precise geometric silhouettes with a small number of rounded expressive details and generous internal breathing room. Use a balanced central arrangement with broad simple shapes, asymmetrical supporting accents and generous breathing room around the main gesture. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Caramel Crypt: caramel #B88755, chocolate #5C3E30, cream #F1DFC5, olive #87845B, terracotta #B9785C. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "SNACK SACK STRATEGIST" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

227

CANDY COUNTDOWN CREW

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. Five little ghosts each hold a different generic sweet in a descending height arc with no numerals or signage. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: vintage advertising. Use clean period-inspired outlines, warm flat-color fills, restrained print-grain texture and expressive original mascot gestures; preserve broad highlights. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Retro Trick Or Treat: burnt orange #BA6436, avocado #818550, mustard #B69B42, chocolate #5C3D2C, ivory #F0E5D1. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "CANDY COUNTDOWN CREW" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

228

WILL HAUNT FOR CHOCOLATE

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A ghost politely presents an empty pumpkin bucket to a floating segmented chocolate bar wearing a tiny bow tie. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: distressed screen print. Use four or five separable ink-like color areas and light wear inside large fills; distress must never erode important lettering. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Witching Hour: plum #654866, sage #899575, ivory #EFE3CD, rust #AD6747, charcoal #332F38. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "WILL HAUNT FOR CHOCOLATE" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

229

SWEET TOOTH NIGHT SCHOOL

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A witch teacher demonstrates three generic candy shapes to a ghost and skeleton at a marshmallow desk. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: vintage diner. Use clean period-inspired outlines, warm flat-color fills, restrained print-grain texture and expressive original mascot gestures; preserve broad highlights. Arrange the character group in a compact shallow arc, varying poses and heights while retaining one unified merchandise silhouette and a separate wording zone. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Retro Trick Or Treat: burnt orange #BA6436, avocado #818550, mustard #B69B42, chocolate #5C3D2C, ivory #F0E5D1. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "SWEET TOOTH NIGHT SCHOOL" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

230

CANDY CLEANUP CREW

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A ghost, skeleton and black cat collect blank wrappers into a little pumpkin bin while one gummy worm holds the lid. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: doodle. Use playful confident hand-drawn lines, small gesture marks and sparse shading; avoid a surrounding scatter of unrelated icons. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Classic Candy Night: pumpkin #C77838, mustard #D0AF59, ivory #F2E5CE, cocoa #58382D, charcoal #343037. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "CANDY CLEANUP CREW" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

12

WEIRD & WILD CANDY CREATURES

20 ORIGINAL CONCEPTS / 231-250

Absurd sweet creatures, surreal candy worlds and spooky inventions.

HOW TO USE

Copy one complete prompt into your image generator. Keep its exact text rule, generic-candy details and isolation requirements. Review the generated lettering and details before production.

231

CANDY UFO ABDUCTION

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A spiral lollipop flying saucer lifts a gummy bear in a broad translucent sugar beam while a ghost watches in disbelief. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: retro comic cover. Create a lively self-contained comic vignette with dramatic diagonals, expressive ink drawing and localized halftone bursts; no rectangular cover frame. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Caramel Crypt: caramel #B88755, chocolate #5C3E30, cream #F1DFC5, olive #87845B, terracotta #B9785C. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "CANDY UFO ABDUCTION" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

232

LICORICE KRAKEN

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. An original friendly octopus made of eight twisted licorice ropes curls around a pumpkin bucket boat with a tiny ghost sailor. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: gothic tattoo flash. Use strong ink contours, decorative pointed leaf framing and restrained crosshatching; keep the creature friendly and the mood playfully autumnal. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Classic Candy Night: pumpkin #C77838, mustard #D0AF59, ivory #F2E5CE, cocoa #58382D, charcoal #343037. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "LICORICE KRAKEN" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

233

PEANUT BUTTER CUP PLANET

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A fluted peanut-butter cup planet wears a caramel ring while two candy corn astronauts float nearby on licorice tethers. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: glossy puffy 3D. Use rounded inflated volumes, smooth resin surfaces, broad polished highlights and soft contact shadows; keep separate objects clearly distinguishable. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Witching Hour: plum #654866, sage #899575, ivory #EFE3CD, rust #AD6747, charcoal #332F38. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "PEANUT BUTTER CUP PLANET" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

234

GUMMY WORM WIZARD TOWER

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A gummy worm wizard coils around a small marshmallow tower with a lollipop telescope and a plain wrapper flag. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: whimsical storybook. Use warm hand-painted shading, gently irregular contours and expressive poses, with simplified props and a readable central vignette. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Caramel Crypt: caramel #B88755, chocolate #5C3E30, cream #F1DFC5, olive #87845B, terracotta #B9785C. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "GUMMY WORM WIZARD TOWER" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

235

CARAMEL APPLE ROBOT

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. An original caramel-apple robot has candy-stick limbs and gumdrop joints, carrying a little ghost in a pumpkin basket. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: halftone illustration. Use substantial outlines and widely spaced halftone dots only within shadow shapes; no dot patterns behind the entire design. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Classic Candy Night: pumpkin #C77838, mustard #D0AF59, ivory #F2E5CE, cocoa #58382D, charcoal #343037. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "CARAMEL APPLE ROBOT" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

236

SOUR BELT SEA SERPENT

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A long sugar-coated sour belt forms a friendly sea serpent whose head peers around a lollipop lighthouse. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: woodcut. Use bold carved shapes, purposeful gouge marks and high-contrast solid areas; avoid fragile hairlines and excessive tiny hatching. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Witching Hour: plum #654866, sage #899575, ivory #EFE3CD, rust #AD6747, charcoal #332F38. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "SOUR BELT SEA SERPENT" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

237

CHOCOLATE BAR DRAGON

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. An original dragon made of segmented chocolate plates curls around one fluted chocolate cup with wafer wings and a caramel tail. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: folk art. Use decorative symmetry where suitable, broad painted shapes, simple warm patterns and deliberately handmade contour variation. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Caramel Crypt: caramel #B88755, chocolate #5C3E30, cream #F1DFC5, olive #87845B, terracotta #B9785C. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "CHOCOLATE BAR DRAGON" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

238

GUMDROP GARGOYLE

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A smiling gumdrop gargoyle sits on a chocolate ledge with tiny bat wings and coarse sugar crystals forming its crown. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: vintage engraving. Use controlled crosshatching and curved engraved contours, concentrating shadow under overlaps and preserving large open highlights. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Classic Candy Night: pumpkin #C77838, mustard #D0AF59, ivory #F2E5CE, cocoa #58382D, charcoal #343037. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "GUMDROP GARGOYLE" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

239

MARSHMALLOW MOTHMAN

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. An original soft moth creature built from ghost marshmallows spreads leaf-shaped wings over a tiny lollipop lantern. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: gothic tattoo flash. Use strong ink contours, decorative pointed leaf framing and restrained crosshatching; keep the creature friendly and the mood playfully autumnal. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Witching Hour: plum #654866, sage #899575, ivory #EFE3CD, rust #AD6747, charcoal #332F38. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "MARSHMALLOW MOTHMAN" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

240

CANDY CORN TIME MACHINE

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A candy corn explorer rides a pumpkin bucket time machine with licorice antennae and gummy-ring gears. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: retro 60s. Use clean period-inspired outlines, warm flat-color fills, restrained print-grain texture and expressive original mascot gestures; preserve broad highlights. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Retro Trick Or Treat: burnt orange #BA6436, avocado #818550, mustard #B69B42, chocolate #5C3D2C, ivory #F0E5D1. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "CANDY CORN TIME MACHINE" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

241

SUGAR CRYSTAL SNAIL

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A friendly snail with a rock-candy crystal shell glides across two broad leaves, leaving a short glossy caramel trail. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: clay-like 3D. Use hand-shaped clay volume, softly rounded edges, subtle finger-smoothed texture and diffuse studio lighting without a floor or cast backdrop. Build one compact self-contained vignette with a strong irregular outer silhouette; use supporting details to frame the interaction rather than fill the surrounding canvas. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Classic Candy Night: pumpkin #C77838, mustard #D0AF59, ivory #F2E5CE, cocoa #58382D, charcoal #343037. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

ART-ONLY RULE: No words, letters, numbers, labels or pseudo-text anywhere in the artwork. Let the character interaction carry the entire concept. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

242

TAFFY TORNADO TOURS

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A taffy ribbon cyclone lifts a ghost and three gummy candies in a controlled upward spiral above one tiny bucket. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: comic-book art. Use dynamic ink contours, selective halftone shadows and two or three strong motion accents that reinforce the action. Arrange the character group in a compact shallow arc, varying poses and heights while retaining one unified merchandise silhouette and a separate wording zone. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Witching Hour: plum #654866, sage #899575, ivory #EFE3CD, rust #AD6747, charcoal #332F38. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "TAFFY TORNADO TOURS" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

243

JELLY BEAN JACKALOPE

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. An original rabbit-like creature made of jelly beans has candy-stick antlers and a little marshmallow ghost riding its back. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: rustic western. Use weathered ink fills, sturdy rounded contours and warm ranch-kitchen textures confined to the subject, with original generic western accessories. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Haunted Frontier: terracotta #B77458, tan #C6A27C, turquoise #608F91, chocolate #543A2D, antique gold #AF924E. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "JELLY BEAN JACKALOPE" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

244

LOLLIPOP DEEP SEA DIVER

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A round lollipop in a plain vintage diving helmet explores a clear candy bubble with gummy-shark company. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: vintage engraving. Use controlled crosshatching and curved engraved contours, concentrating shadow under overlaps and preserving large open highlights. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Classic Candy Night: pumpkin #C77838, mustard #D0AF59, ivory #F2E5CE, cocoa #58382D, charcoal #343037. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "LOLLIPOP DEEP SEA DIVER" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

245

CANDY BUTTON CENTIPEDE

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A strip of pastel candy buttons becomes a friendly centipede with tiny booted legs and a pumpkin-candy hat. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: cute sticker art. Use a unified bold outer contour, simple cel shading and friendly expressions; any sticker-style rim must follow the artwork silhouette. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Witching Hour: plum #654866, sage #899575, ivory #EFE3CD, rust #AD6747, charcoal #332F38. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in heavy rounded display lettering. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details.

TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "CANDY BUTTON CENTIPEDE" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

246

PEPPERMINT PORTAL PATROL

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A ghost security officer watches a peppermint-disc portal while a gummy worm emerges through its spiral. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: minimal modern. Reduce objects to precise geometric silhouettes with a small number of rounded expressive details and generous internal breathing room. Use a balanced central arrangement with broad simple shapes, asymmetrical supporting accents and generous breathing room around the main gesture. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Caramel Crypt: caramel #B88755, chocolate #5C3E30, cream #F1DFC5, olive #87845B, terracotta #B9785C. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "PEPPERMINT PORTAL PATROL" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

247

CHOCOLATE COFFIN GARDEN

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A small original coffin-shaped chocolate box opens to reveal lollipop flowers and a sleepy marshmallow ghost tucked inside. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: cottagecore. Use delicate but printable botanical contours, soft gouache fills and homely kitchen details without surrounding scenery. Build one compact self-contained vignette with a strong irregular outer silhouette; use supporting details to frame the interaction rather than fill the surrounding canvas. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Classic Candy Night: pumpkin #C77838, mustard #D0AF59, ivory #F2E5CE, cocoa #58382D, charcoal #343037. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

ART-ONLY RULE: No words, letters, numbers, labels or pseudo-text anywhere in the artwork. Let the character interaction carry the entire concept. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

248

CARMEL COMET COURIER

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A caramel cube astronaut rides a soft-taffy comet tail, delivering a single plain chocolate square to a ghost moon. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: mid-century illustration. Use clean period-inspired outlines, warm flat-color fills, restrained print-grain texture and expressive original mascot gestures; preserve broad highlights. Use a balanced central arrangement with broad simple shapes, asymmetrical supporting accents and generous breathing room around the main gesture. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Witching Hour: plum #654866, sage #899575, ivory #EFE3CD, rust #AD6747, charcoal #332F38. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "CARMEL COMET COURIER" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

249

GUMMY RING DRAGON NEST

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A tiny original dragon sleeps inside two stacked gummy rings while a candy corn guards the nest with a lollipop. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: heirloom appliqué. Render softly padded fabric forms with felt edges, generous blanket stitching and restrained cotton patterns; all stitching is printed illustration. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Caramel Crypt: caramel #B88755, chocolate #5C3E30, cream #F1DFC5, olive #87845B, terracotta #B9785C. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "GUMMY RING DRAGON NEST" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.

250

THE GREAT SWEET BEAST

CONCEPT

Create an original Halloween candy-and-character merchandise graphic. A friendly fuzzy original monster carries a tiny candy village on its back, with a chocolate-square house and lollipop tree clearly readable. Make the joke immediately legible through the pose, prop scale and facial expression; the candy must remain recognizable by shape, texture and filling.

STYLE & COMPOSITION

STYLE: whimsical storybook. Use warm hand-painted shading, gently irregular contours and expressive poses, with simplified props and a readable central vignette. Build a compact vertical emblem with the hero filling the middle two-thirds and supporting elements following its outer contour. Keep the main subject and wording dominant at thumbnail size. Use thick printable edges and omit fussy details that would disappear on a mug or shirt.

PALETTE

PALETTE - Classic Candy Night: pumpkin #C77838, mustard #D0AF59, ivory #F2E5CE, cocoa #58382D, charcoal #343037. Use four or five dominant colors with transparent negative space; concentrate the darkest tone in outlines and the lightest tone in highlights.

TEXT & FINISH

TYPOGRAPHY: Set the wording in bold hand-lettered display type with open counters. Place it in a clear upper or lower zone, following the silhouette without crossing faces or food details. TEXT RULE: Render only the exact phrase "THE GREAT SWEET BEAST" and keep every letter fully readable. Preserve clean gaps between limbs, utensils and lettering. Transparent background. Isolated artwork only. No mockup, person wearing the design, rectangular backdrop, brand names, logos, branded wrappers, copied packaging, licensed characters, watermark, pseudo-text or extra letters. Use original characters and plain generic packaging only.